Health Care, Appalachia Cited

Democrat Congress Edge Boosts Hopes Of 2 Issues

WASHINGTON (AP) — The widened Democratic margin in Congress could brighten chances for two key Johnson administration proposals — health care for the elderly and aid to the depressed Appalachian region.

The White House is certain to read the landslide victory of President Johnson as a mandate to push harder for both measures, sidetracked in the last session.

Final returns indicate a net gain of two Senate seats for the Democrats and — more significantly — about 40 House seats.

In the 88th Congress, the Democratic Senate edge of 66 to 34 already was so big that the majority party could push through even its most controversial programs.

The proposal to provide medical care for older Americans by boosting Social Security taxes cleared the Senate by five votes. The 1-billion Appalachian aid bill was approved by a wide margin.

But the health plan was rejected in a conference with the House and House leaders decided against bringing up the Appalachian legislation, a sure sign that they feared defeat despite a 257-178 margin.

The new congressional lineup encouraged Democrats to believe they could put through these long-disputed measures:

—Creation of a Cabinet department of urban affairs or, as it has been called more recently, a department of housing and community development.

—Revision of the immigration laws to knock out the long-standing national origins quota system.

—Extension of the Wages and Hours Act to include some types of service workers long excluded.

—Establishment of some form of national standards for the unemployment compensation system.

Democratic liberals say also it now should be easier to get Congress to vote the needed funds for such programs as vocational education, mass transit, manpower retraining and depressed areas.

Many Democrats are eager to vote on a Social Security bill since beneficiaries under this program were given a commitment in the 1964 session by both branches of Congress for an increase in their payments.

The House voted a 5 per cent raise, the Senate a 7 per cent increase in basic payments. The measure went down the drain in the dispute over the health-care plan.

Loser Waits Canvass

Young Tops Taft For U.S. Senate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Sen. Stephen M. Young, who said "the heck with it" and went to bed thinking himself a loser election night, faces a second term as U. S. Senator from Ohio.

And Republican Rep. Robert Taft Jr., who held a premature "victory" celebration when it appeared he had survived the Johnson landslide and unseated Young, says he'll wait for an official canvass of the voting before deciding whether to request a recount.

Young, a 75-year-old hard-line Democrat, told friends in Washington Wednesday night that he tried unsuccessfully election night to call Taft and personally concede the election. He admitted that he's glad the call didn't get through.

At about that time, Taft was telling a news conference, "I think I've established some independence of my own," alluding to his father, the late "Mr. Republican," Sen. Robert A. Taft.

But at midday Wednesday, the lead went over to Young for good—final Network Election Service figures gave him a 13,074-vote margin—and Taft said: "In view of the extremely close race and the surprising results in certain areas, I will await the official canvass before making any further statement or decision (on a recount request)."

In Young's absence Wednesday morning—the senator was driving to Washington, still behind in the tabulations—one aide admitted, "No matter what happens there probably will be a recount."

The Young-Taft cliff-hanger was compounded by a combination of late Cleveland votes, almost solidly for Young, a Cleveland, and an NES tabulation error that went uncorrected for a while in the wee hours. The counting error gave Taft a big unearned edge that quickly disappeared when the mistake was detected.

President Johnson carried the Buckeye State by more than a million votes, a record, but had trouble dragging fellow Democrats Young and Congress-at-large nominee Robert E. Sweeney with him. Sweeney's margin over Rep. Oliver P. Bolton in the race for the seat Taft gave up was 150,000.

Republican headaches, however, were not limited to the national big-name races.

The GOP lost three other congressional races besides Bolton's. Rep. Paul F. Schenck, of Dayton, in Congress since 1951, lost to Democrat Rodney Love. Rep. Homer (Pete) Abele lost back the House seat he won from Rep. Walter Moeller two years ago. And, in one of the most surprising upsets of the campaign, Democrat John J. Gilligan of Cincinnati, defeated one-term Carl Rich of Cincinnati, who resigned from the Hamilton County Common Pleas Court bench two years ago to make his first successful race for Congress.

The Ohio Senate also was a problem for Republicans. Shorn of their majority leader, Sen. C. Stanley Mechem, R-Athens, defeated quite unexpectedly in this southeastern Ohio race, Republicans face a 16-16 tie in the Senate. Organization, on a tie basis, and the selection of a clerk will be problems, but in the past one party has been allowed to choose the clerk and the other has been permitted to select the majority leader.

The House, with its makeup still undetermined, still appears, barely, to be in Republican control.

To Include Reapportionment
GOP Legislature Losses To Expand Extra Session

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Republican losses in the Ohio General Assembly probably mean that next week's special session will be expanded to include legislative reapportionment.

This was the consensus of political opinion in the capital Wednesday after election tallies showed the Republicans had lost their majority in the Senate and had their margin whittled somewhat in the House. Republicans also lost a top strategist in the defeat of Sen. C. Stanley Mechem, majority leader.

However, Gov. James A. Rhodes said today he would not consider any action in addition to the call of the special session, until after it convenes and he has had an opportunity to talk with leaders and members.

On the basis of unofficial returns, the new assembly convening in January would show the parties divided 16-16 in the Senate and the GOP with a 57-43 edge in the House. At present the GOP rules the upper chamber 20-13 and the House 86-43.

The current majorities will prevail in the special session, giving the GOP an opportunity to re-apportion with an eye toward giving an edge—wherever possible—to its candidates.

Re-apportionment was ordered earlier this year by the U.S. Supreme Court which held the state legislatures must be apportioned on the basis of population.

$5,000 Given For Chester Fire Vehicle

Councilmen Clear Fund For Matching Firemen's Payment

An authorization of $5,000 towards the purchase of a new fire truck for the Chester volunteer fire department was approved by Council Wednesday night.

The allotment will match funds of the firemen for initial payment for the $21,700 truck, and the firemen will conduct a fund drive and raise money for the remainder.

The financing proposal was presented to Council by Fire Chief William Glover.

In 1959, Council established a two-year fire levy to obtain a new truck, and members indicated they did not want to set up another levy.

Instead, Council appropriated money from the street and fire new equipment fund. About $4,500 is budgeted annually for such equipment, Roy Cashdollar, clerk, said.

The new Pirsch truck, a 1,000-gallon pumper, is similar to the 1959 vehicle, and will provide the city with two large trucks.

The Sutphen Associates Co. of Columbus will allow $2,000 for trade-in of a 1942 model, about a 500-gallon pumper, for which the firemen originally paid $3,500.

Glover said firemen plan a house-to-house drive, along with solicitation of industries, businesses and professional people.

He announced the Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co. has already donated $1,000.

Two more applications were received for the post of second.

Broadway Crossing Rebuilding Launched

The Broadway crossing was closed this morning as a Pennsylvania Railroad Co. track crew started a rebuilding project and the renovated Walnut St. crossing was reopened at the same time to serve as the major link between the River Rd. and the downtown area.

Because of the heavy influx of traffic that will be thrown into the intersection of E. 3rd and Walnut St. by the diversion of Broadway, a policeman will be stationed at the junction during rush hours, Safety Service Director Robert E. Vodrey said.

He pointed out there is no traffic signal at E. 3rd and Walnut and control will be needed to keep Walnut St. traffic moving.

The Pennsy also has promised to clean up its siding on Dresden Ave. near Smith St., cutting high weeds and removing debris, Vodrey said.

Powerful Atlas To Be Fired Today On 8½-Month Journey

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The United States prepared today to launch Mariner 3, a robot explorer, on an intended 8½-month journey to Mars to take pictures and collect scientific data.

A powerful 10-story-tall Atlas-Agena D rocket was set to blast off between 1:22 p.m. and 3:17 p.m. to start the complex payload across 350 million miles of space for a brief encounter with the planet next July 17.

If successful, the unmanned U.S. spacecraft will sweep within 8,600 miles of Mars and provide the first closeup information ever obtained about the planet. Many astronomers believe Mars harbors a basic form of life, such as vegetation.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Mariner 3 will not be able to detect life but is to gather information needed to design life-seeking capsules which the United States hopes to land on Mars in 1969.

Because Mars is in a favorable position for a launching from earth only one month out of each 25 and because of the importance of collecting information about the planet for future shots, the space agency scheduled two identical payloads for firing in the present November favorable period.

Mariner 4 is being readied on an adjoining launch pad. Its firing date, possibly as early as next week, will be determined after analysis of early results from Mariner 3.

Mariner project manager Jack N. James of NASA's Jet Propulsion Laboratory said there was a better than 50 per cent chance of obtaining significant data about Mars with the twin shots.

James said that the 138,000 parts in each Mariner would

Close County Race Will Get Attention

The Columbiana County Election Board convened this morning in its office on W. 6th St. to begin the official canvass of returns from the general election Tuesday — a task expected to require until late Friday afternoon, or possibly Saturday.

The canvassing crew expected to pay particular attention to the four — way county commissioner's race in which Max Gard, Democrat, apparently won by a 25-vote margin over Galen Greenisen, incumbent Republican.

The complete unofficial returns from the 165 precincts credited Gard with 18,523 and Greenisen with 18,498.

Frank Wilson, Wellsville Democrat, won the other commissioner's seat easily. Walter A. Hunston, incumbent East Palestine Republican, trailed in the four-way contest.

The official canvass, a painstaking job for the board and its clerical staff, supplies the figures which are certified to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown's office at Columbus.

If recounts are sought on any race or the vote on a special question or issue, the applications cannot be filed until after the official canvass has been completed. The official count generally shows minor variations in some totals, but no material change in the result.

Red China's Chou Among Red Rulers

World Communist Chiefs Gather For Moscow Talks

MOSCOW (AP) — The Kremlin appealed today for an end to "nationalist narrow-mindedness and discrimination" in world Communist ranks as Red China's Premier Chou En-lai and other foreign Communist chiefs converged on Moscow for talks with the Soviet Union.

The appeal published in Pravda, the organ of the Soviet Communist party, was clearly intended to serve as the keynote for the first big gathering of Communist rulers since Nikita Khrushchev's downfall last month.

"The Communist party of the Soviet Union calls for an implacable struggle against the appearance and survival of any kind of nationalism and chauvinism and against tendencies toward national narrow-mindedness and discrimination," Pravda's editorial said.

In their bitter feud with the Chinese during Khrushchev's time, the Soviets accused the Chinese of fomenting a schism in the Communist world with nationalist, chauvinist policies.

The charge has been indirectly aimed at some East European Communists, most notably the Romanians.

The Chinese premier headed a seven-man delegation to the celebration Saturday commemorating the 47th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution.

It will be the first high-level meeting between the Soviet and Chinese Communists since peace talks between the two parties broke down in Moscow in July 1963. After that the conflict between the two nations sharpened and split the world Communist movement.

The removal of Khrushchev had raised the possibility of a surface reconciliation. The former Soviet leader was a personal target for much of Peking's bitterness.

Chou was accompanied by Vice Premier Ho Lung, a member of the Chinese party's policy-making Politburo; Kang Sheng, an alternate member of the Politburo; Wu Hsiu-Chuan and Vice Foreign Minister Liu Hsiang, both members of the Chinese party's Central Committee, and Vice Foreign Minister Chiao Kuang-hua. They were being joined in Moscow by Pan Tzu-li, China's ambassador to the Soviet Union.

Red China's allies in the Communist world also were sending top-level delegations to Moscow.

There has been a surface easing of tension between Moscow and Peking since Khrushchev's ouster. Both sides recently exchanged friendly messages and neither has engaged in the public denunciations they exchanged frequently before the Kremlin shakeup.

However, Leonid I. Brezhnev, the new Soviet party chief, and Alexei N. Kosygin, the new premier, have shown no tendency to compromise on the major issues in dispute between the Soviet and Chinese parties. The new Kremlin leadership has said repeatedly it would continue Khrushchev's policy of peaceful coexistence with the capitalist world, seeking a further easing of world tensions. The Chinese bitterly oppose this policy.

In Levy Defeat
Beaver Local Board May Request Special Election

Preparations for a special election in December for a proposed Beaver Local School District levy are expected to be made at a special meeting of the Board of Education tonight at 7:30 at the Public School.

Because of the vital need for operating funds, the board plans to again seek voter approval of a 5.4-mill levy next month.

In Tuesday's general election, a 5.4-mill issue was turned down by only 44 votes — 1,858 to 1,814, while a 1.6-mill levy was renewed.

Because of the narrow margin of defeat and the need for additional operating revenue, board members have indicated intention to hold a special election.

County Prosecutor William Brokaw Wednesday issued an opinion that such a special election could be held in December.

State election laws permit a special election 30 days after a general election, but there was a question of whether the district could ballot more than twice a year on a special issue and whether a levy proposal in May was a special election.

State law also forbids holding an election within 10 days prior to a holiday, so the board — if it decides to submit a levy in December — will have one of three Tuesday dates to select: Dec. 8, Dec. 15 or Dec. 29.

Although only a simple majority was needed for approval of the two levies in Tuesday's election, a 55 per cent majority would be required for passing a levy in a special election next month.

The board is also expected at tonight's session to discuss various economy proposals in school operations.

Because of decreased state foundation aid and rising operation costs, the board earlier this year instituted a number of cutbacks in school programs.

Among additional proposals to be studied by the board would be in transportation, with the possibility of requiring students living within a mile of a school to walk to school.

Further cutbacks in athletic programs and possible half-day sessions will also be studied, school officials said.

Theft Occurs After Plant's Production Halts At Midnight

LISBON — Burglars battered and burned their way into a huge safe early today at the Lisbon Spring & Wire Co. plant and escaped with about $200.

The latest in a series of safe burglaries in the Lisbon area, it was the fourth since July. The plant is located on Grant St. in Jordonville, south of Lisbon.

Sheriff Russell VanFossen said the safe was cracked sometime between the plant's close of operations last midnight and 7 this morning.

The intruders used an acetylene torch and tanks from the plant to cut a large hole around the combination of the 6-x-4-foot safe. Then they battered out the cement lining inside the safe's door.

The intruders gained entrance via an unlocked window in the lower level of the shop, the sheriff said.

A small amount of change also was taken from desk drawers in the office adjoining the room in which the safe is kept. Nothing else was disturbed.

John Drovdic, an employee, discovered the burglary when he reported for work this morning. He called the sheriff's office.

In addition to three other safe-crackings in the community since July, two other places were burglarized in which no entry was gained to the strong-boxes.

The safes which were forced open were located in the Eagles Lodge, Morgan's Drug Store and the Farm Bureau.

In other burglaries at the City Loan Co. and the Peoples Savings & Loan Co., the safes were not disturbed.

City Autoist Injured When Car Plunges

A 27-year-old East End man was injured this morning when his car struck the wheels of a tractor-trailer truck then plunged over a steep 50-foot embankment at Rock Spring Park, Chester.

Donald Black, 2314 Harvey Ave., was treated at City Hospital for injuries of the chest and left knee.

Ambulance attendants had to use ropes to pull up a stretcher cot bearing Black from the low area along the Route 30 hill.

Hancock County Deputy Sheriff Rex Cowey and Grant District Constable Harold Davis said Black was headed downhill about 6 a. m. when his auto struck the tandem wheels of a trailer on a rig being driven uphill by Kenny Little, 25, of New Cumberland R. D. 1.

The impact ripped a fender from Black's car, and it veered over the steep embankment, landing on its top.

Black was first reported pinned in the auto, Deputy Cowey said, but was found lying nearby after having apparently climbed out.

Little, driving for the Murray Trucking Co. of New Cumberland R. D., was not hurt.

A wrecking crew was attempting to retrieve the auto at mid-morning.

Black faces charges of hazardous driving. He was released from the hospital.

Democrats Win 4 Seats From GOP

Ohio Delegation To Have New Look In U.S. House

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — President Johnson's avalanche election victory in Ohio will give the Buckeye delegation to the U.S. House of Representatives a new look.

Riding the crest of the President's sweeping triumph over Sen. Barry Goldwater, Ohio Democrats took four seats away from Republicans Tuesday, including the at-large seat Robert Taft Jr. vacated to make an unsuccessful bid for the Senate.

The Democrats returned all six incumbents, four by convincing margins, making the new lineup 14 Republicans and 10 Democrats.

The GOP went into the election with a solid 18-6 advantage.

The biggest casualty was Oliver P. Bolton, who gave up his 11th District seat to seek the at-large post.

Bolton fell to Robert E. Sweeney, 40, a Cleveland lawyer and father of 10, in a sharp clash. The secretary of state's complete and unofficial returns showed Sweeney with 1,865,865 to Bolton's 1,711,918.

Bolton's setback marked the finish to Congress' only mother-son team. Bolton's mother, Mrs. Frances P. Bolton, was one of the 13 GOP incumbents re-elected, winning handily over Chat Paterson of Cleveland in the 22nd District.

The only new member of the GOP delegation is J. William Stanton in the 11th, previously represented by Bolton. Stanton, a 40-year-old Lake County commissioner, whipped C. D. Lambros, two-term mayor of Ash-tabula, by nearly a 5-4 margin.

The last Democrat to be assured a seat was John J. Gilligan, 43, a Cincinnati city councilman. He pulled away from Carl W. Rich, 65, the incumbent rival and three-time mayor of Cincinnati. It marked the first time since 1936 that the 1st District has gone Republican.

In addition to Gilligan and Sweeney, the new democratic representatives are Rodney M. Love, in the 3rd District, and Walter Moeller, in the 10th.

Love, 56, a Dayton attorney, upset incumbent Paul F. Schenck's bid for a seventh consecutive term. Schenck, a 65-year-old Dayton real estate man, lost by more than 10,000 votes in final unofficial figures.

Moeller, 54, a Lancaster minister, represented the 10th District for two terms until Homer E. Abele defeated him two years ago.

Abele, a McArthur lawyer, succumbed by about 5,000 votes in the unofficial tabulation.

Three GOP incumbents overcame stiff challenges to win. They were William H. Ayres, 14th; Frank T. Bow, 16th; and John M. Ashbrook, 17th.

Ashbrook, one of the top leaders in the Goldwater drive in Ohio, turned back Robert W. Levering, a 46-year-old lawyer-farmer and former House member, by about 5,000 votes.

Ceramists Ask Nominations To Make Bleining Award

The Pittsburgh Section of the American Ceramic Society today reminded its members nominations are open for the annual Albert Victor Bleining Memorial Award for "distinguished achievement in the field of ceramics."

Nominations will close Nov. 15 and the award committee will meet shortly afterward to choose the winner.

The name of the recipient will be announced at a "presidents' night" dinner Dec. 18 at the George Washington Hotel in Washington, Pa. It will be the traditional joint session with the Pennsylvania Ceramic Society.

Elbert F. Osborn, president of the national society, will be the principal speaker.

W. H. Schaefer heads the Bleining Award Committee. The committee's selection will be announced at the December meeting, but the award will not actually be presented until the March session. It is symbolized by a gold medal and a scroll.

The award was established in 1948 in honor of the late Dr. A. V. Bleining, who was director of research for the Homer Laughlin China Co.

The 1964 award was presented to Dr. Frederick Harwood Norton of Gloucester, Mass., head of the refractories division of the Department of Metallurgy at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Nomination forms for the Bleining Award have been sent to all Pittsburgh Section members. Nominations are not limited to Pittsburgh area residents. Once a nomination has been made, it remains active for three years.

At its meeting next Tuesday night at Stouffer's Restaurant in the Oakland Section of Pittsburgh, the section will hear an address by Henry D. Bixby of Frenchtown, N. J., superintendent of technical ceramics for the Frenchtown Porcelain Co.

He will discuss the history of the firm, starting with production of sparkplug insulators and diverging into other electronic and technical ceramics. He is a former member of the Pittsburgh Section.

Absentee Ballots Seen Key In Alaska Voting

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — Absentee ballots apparently hold the key to the winner of Alaska's lone seat in the U.S. House of Representatives.

With 320 of the state's 356 precincts reported Wednesday night, Democratic incumbent Ralph J. Rivers led Republican Lowell Thomas Jr., 30,466 to 29,991. About 4,500 absentee ballots will be counted next week.

Thomas, son of the explorer and news commentator, is making his second attempt to unseat Rivers, who has represented Alaska since statehood in 1959.

Midland Fund Drive Exceeds Goal

The Midland Area United Fund campaign has ended with 101 per cent of its $59,788 goal or $60,403.22 in pledges and contributions raised.

For their efforts in heading the successful campaign, Charles Kurcina of Ohioville, left, campaign chairman, and Charles A. Jacoby of Ohio View, center, one of two co-chairmen, are shown receiving awards presented by Steve Trbovich of Midland, president of the Midland Area Charities.

Joseph D'Alesio of Midland, president of Steelworkers Local 1212, who was not present for the picture, also served as a campaign co-chairman and will receive an award. It had been extended for a week.

Kurcina expressed appreciation to chairmen, solicitors, and donors in all divisions. He said the support by Crucible Steel and Mackintosh - Hemphill employees helped greatly.

Two more divisions reported 100 per cent of their goals. Dr. E. H. North Jr. of Industry, medical - dental division, reported $360 or 111 per cent of his division's $310 goal. P. K. O'Hara of Industry, and Charles Whittacre of Midland, co-chairmen, building trades and transportation, reported $1,037 or 108 per cent of their $950 goal. All three will receive United Fund awards.

Other division standings are: Manufacturing, $52,760.15 or 102 per cent; attorneys - funeral homes, $90 or 72 per cent; clubs and organizations, $77 or 51 per cent; education, $1,187.10 or 106 per cent; public service, $476 or 100 per cent; real estate and insurance, $105 or 60 per cent.

Government, $304 or 94 per cent; special gifts, $130 or 100 per cent; retail trade, $756.50 or 71 per cent; Midland residential, $261.60 or 70 per cent; Industry residential, $256.50 or 85 per cent; Ohioville residential, $58 or 39 per cent; Meadowbrook, $82.37 or 144 per cent.

The $60,403.22 raised includes $2,462 county credit, or pledges by firms which give countywide and are credited to the Midland Area.

Only seven of the 15 Midland divisions achieved 100 per cent of their goals. Funds raised will aid over 40,000 persons annually by the United Funds of Beaver County. Pledges of non-residents are returned to the charities of their home towns.

No Vote Frauds, Hamilton Board Chairman Says

CINCINNATI (AP)—John A. Wiethe, Democrat chairman of the Hamilton County Board of Elections said Wednesday there were no vote frauds here and that "everything has been cleared up."

Wiethe issued a statement after Democratic national chairman John M. Bailey said he was sending special investigators to Cincinnati. Bailey said:

"We are very much concerned about the delay of the vote count in 124 precincts from Hamilton County in Ohio. With all other precincts in the state in and accounted for, this kind of a delay is a matter of grave national concern."

Wiethe said that Bailey had been told 59 boxes of ballots were missing, but were later found and tabulated. The county was the last in the state to finish its vote count.

"This delay was caused by the fact that election board workers had to restack so many of the ballots," Wiethe said.

The county is using a new $1.6 million Coleman Vote Tallying System that counts ballots electronically. Before the counting can begin, the large-sized paper ballots have to be in perfect alignment. This was not the case in many instances and the ballots had to be restacked.

Ohio Man, 48, Killed In Crash Of Plane

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — A Montgomery County man was killed Wednesday night when a plane he was piloting crashed in a field near Waynesville, just south of the Montgomery-Warren County line. He was identified as Charles Fulton, 48, of Germantown.

The plane, owned by Harold

L. Wolf of near Dayton, apparently was out of gas, officials said, and Fulton hoped to land in the field. The plane struck nearby tree tops before crashing. Fulton was alone.

Killed By Sweeper

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cecil Rogers, 51, Cincinnati, suffered a crushed chest when struck by a city street sweeper Tuesday and died Wednesday police said.

Investigate Virus

SASKATOON, Sask. (AP) — Researchers at the University of Saskatchewan are investigating a virus which attacks the heart and nervous system, particularly in infants, and often causes meningitis in children and adults. Dr. George Dempster, head of the bacteriology department, says the virus belongs to the same family as the one causing poliomyelitis.

LBJ-All The Way!

Lyndon B. Johnson has been elected by an unprecedented majority of popular votes.
The question was whether the American people would repudiate the Kennedy-Johnson administration after four years. The answer was a thunderous NO.
President Johnson ran far stronger than John F. Kennedy would have run.
This is a proud moment in Mr. Johnson's career. His countrymen sincerely congratulate him. Most of them voted for him.
They had been told this was an historic national election. They responded with an historic landslide.
It was correspondingly an historic defeat for the Republican ticket—a rejection of Sen. Goldwater and Rep. Miller that shatters the party organization set up after the Goldwater coup at San Francisco last summer.

WHAT HAPPENED at San Francisco split the party between ultra-conservatives and moderates.
What happened in the polling places Tuesday was a popular repudiation of the ultra-conservatives who had gained the upper hand in San Francisco. They won a battle and lost a war.
The two-party system in America will survive the debacle.
The system will survive on its merits. Whether the Republican party can survive on its merits as a national organization remains to be seen. The merit will have to become visible to rank-and-file voters.
The historically minded will point to the Whig party, which lost touch with popular sentiment and never was heard of again after 1864.
But the historically minded also will point to the resurgence of a moribund Democratic party in 1932. They will point to the necessity of keeping the party in power answerable for its stewardship.

THERE HAS BEEN no defeat for the principle of conservatism in public administration, no defeat for the necessity of prudence in financial management.
What was repudiated was a presentation that raised serious doubts and caused many Republicans to desert their party's ticket.

Steel Price Skirmish

The fact to be kept in view if there is going to be a skirmish between members of the steel industry and the White House over prices is this.
President Johnson has no authority to forbid price increases.
All he has is responsibility for economic stability. Anything that threatens stability becomes a political problem—and political problems are White House business.
A rise in the price of steel at this time would justify in the minds of United Steel Workers a demand for a corresponding rise in the price of steel labor. Improving profits in the steel industry will justify enough demand for wage improvement without an additional boost in steel prices at this time.

THE COLD FACT of the situation for the White House is that government has a right to be concerned with anything that might add to its political problems.
Industrialists and businessmen cannot dissociate themselves from political problems any more than politicians can dissociate themselves from the problems of industry and business.
Following last week's declaration by a White House source that President Johnson was taking a dim view of price increase rumors, steel industry spokesmen fell silent.
It could be surmised that they wanted no repetition of the angry clash with

It Was Easy

Every so often there is a time to stand up to be counted. One of my personal times came when the Republican party in the 1964 national election shilled for the Confederacy.
The Democratic party had tripped over this albatross around its political neck throughout my lifetime. I could not understand why any opposition strategist would want to inflict the handicap on Republicans.
Nor could I fathom the thinking of any Republican who would turn his back on Abraham Lincoln, the great man who gave the party its dignity, its reason for existence and its appeal to voters in the North and West by fanning the embers of the states' rights and civil rights issues.
These were the chronic embarrassments of Democratic strategists. In a political system that stresses consistency of principle, it was beyond my comprehension why the leadership of a political party would swap the support of millions of lifelong members for the tattered remnant of bloody-shirt feudists in the hard core of the Old Confederacy.

I COULD NOT foresee (and if I had been able to I wouldn't have believed it) that the once-proud Republican party — the Union party, as it was called in 1864—whose great man saved the Republic would make itself so agreeable to irreconcilables still fighting the Civil War that it would end up with Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi and South Carolina

Republicans voting for President Johnson were not necessarily endorsing everything he stood for. Many were refusing to endorse what Sen. Goldwater and his backers stood for.
They felt they had no choice but to turn against a leadership that was acceptable to men like Strom Thurmond and George Wallace. This was not their party, not the party of Abraham Lincoln, nor of William McKinley, Herbert Hoover, Dwight Eisenhower and Richard Nixon.
The American people never have repudiated an administration when the economy was at the arc of an upswing.
In this century, the American people never have turned out a political party after only four years in office. President Kennedy would have been favored for reelection if he had been the candidate. President Johnson was the beneficiary of his predecessor's popularity as well as his own.

HE NOW HAS a powerful mandate in his own right. Since last Nov. 22 he has had remarkable success in his professed intention to unify divisive factions — to be president of all the people.
His countrymen were grateful for the way he asserted sure-handed leadership after the awful events in Dallas last November. He won their confidence then and continued to win it with his leadership in the intervening months.
The wishful proposition that the Republican party could prevail by offering a clear choice between what President Johnson stood for and what the Goldwater people insisted the Republican party should stand for had bemused many Republicans ever since the Landon-Willkie-Dewey campaigns.
The proposition was tested at the polls Tuesday. It was rejected.
There now must be a new proposition — to pick up the pieces and go on from here with a more palatable brand of Republicanism.
But in picking up the pieces it must be remembered that the more than 25 million people who voted for the Goldwater ticket represent the biggest minority group in the country and their balance of power in the future cannot be discounted.

President Kennedy in April 1962. Both the steel industry and the Kennedy administration had cause to regret that episode.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON has no legal authority to control prices.
He has only the prestige of his office and the persuasive power of an experienced politician who believes all problems should be tackled cooperatively by all the people affected.
The government would be affected by a steel price increase.
The Johnson administration would be affected.
Steel employers and steel labor would be affected.
It's a safe bet they will be getting together soon.

Line Needs Painting

Clearly-defined center lines play an important part in traffic safety at all times, but even more so when foggy weather sets in.
And the weather has been foggy in the East Liverpool area lately, and can be counted on to be that way again from time to time.
Motorists using the Chester bridge are complaining about the faded center line on the span, pointing out the added hazard that results.
A re-painting of the line is in order.

By Truman Twill

on its win list. Nothing else, just these.
Would Abe Lincoln have believed this 100 years ago if someone had added such a prediction to the burden of his sadness?
Would any of generations of Republicans who carried on the principles of befriending the Negro as a federal responsibility believed it if someone had forecast an election in which the Republican party would be backed in the Electoral College only by bitter-end rebels who wave Confederate flags and talk about how the South is going to rise again?
The enormity of this imposition staggered me as nothing in my adult life had staggered me about national politics. If this wasn't a time to stand up to be counted, it seemed unlikely another time would come in what remained of my life. I had lots of company on Election Day.

AMERICANS have a thousand things on their minds when they vote. I have had my share of things to think about when I have voted.

But this year—1964, a century after this Republic's greatest man stood tall in the election of 1864—I had only one thing to think about.

I was voting against Strom Thurmond, George Wallace, the late Theodore Bilbo and everything they have stood for. It was easy to stand up to be counted in this showdown.

After all, we did win the Civil War that other time. Didn't we?

Labor Went All Out For Johnson

By Victor Riesel

Insiders are predicting that election post-mortems will prove that labor's fantastic national political machinery delivered as many, or more, votes to President Johnson than the Democratic party apparatus itself.

It took amazingly co-ordinated action, directed by some of the country's best organizational brains, and well over $15 million, not to mention the heaviest concentration of men and technical equipment in political history.

It was one man, however, who really pulled it all together. He's Lyndon Baines Johnson who, as recently as April 18, 1963, had to fight to get five minutes on the program of the Fiftieth Anniversary of the U.S. Department of Labor. That night, for example, the official time-tables distributed at the big banquets in New York instructed the toastmaster:

"8:55: If time permits, message from Vice President Johnson."

"9 p.m. — Entertainment (Carol Lawrence)."

Yet within 18 months the President has been literally hero-worshipped by labor men who are about as emotional as the Sphinx and as easily wooed as a stone image of Nefertiti. The President bound them closer to him than did Franklin Roosevelt.

MR. JOHNSON made allies of them by opening the White House, not only to the national chiefs, but to their colleagues, aides and families. Again and again, he summoned Cabinet members to brief them. In hundreds of personal phone calls and private talks the chief executive sought their advice and never forgot to follow through. He talked up, not down to them. Many times he took their advice on strategy and tone.

He never overlooked an amenity. Those who came to his home, table and conference rooms received personal letters of thanks. Last May some 120 labor editors were asked in. Each received a personal letter thanking him and asking for support in his legislative drives. Some received two and three notes. If there was no time, his aide, Jack Valente, would write and soon the President's letter followed.

He got to know their names and their headaches and would inquire of their troubles.

THE PRESIDENT, and that part of his staff headed by press secretary, George Reedy, watched the labor press. Hundreds of letters went out from the President thanking the editors for their editorial comment. To many of them he wrote, "We are allies, my friend..."

As each labor paper and union endorsed him, the union president — be he national or local — received a note of appreciation.

One of those to whom he has been particularly devoted is the Ladies Garment Worker's president David Dubinsky. There is a personal bond between the lanky ex-school teacher and the peppery, bantam ex-garment cutter.

It was Dubinsky — along with his colleague Alex Rose, the Hatters' latter-day Jim Farley — who gave Vice President Lyndon Johnson the Liberal party platform on Oct. 15, 1963, at a moment when Mr. Johnson could have walked through New York's Times Square at theater hour and not attract a corporal's guard.

IT WAS the same strong vote-getting group which ran the most massive political rally of the national campaign in New York's garment area, Thursday, Oct. 29.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Scoring 173 hits out of 200 shots, Herb Stewart, won the shoot at the East Liverpool Rifle Club.

Miss Nell Robinson, superintendent, announced that 459 children were examined during the City Hospital's free clinic which was conducted for six weeks.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Harry H. Johnson of Cedar Ave., Wellsville, returned from the CCC Camp at Caldwell, Ohio.

Ernest John, principal of the Newell 4th St. School, attended homecoming exercises at Kent State.

TEN YEARS AGO — Beaver

There were many other labor leaders responsible for the mass movement of campaign workers into more than 140,000 precincts of the land. There was Roy Reuther, working quietly in the national COPE headquarters, directing an intricate national machine which will not be dismantled.

It was this AFL-CIO central office which coordinated with the White House, the big labor conventions which heard Mr. Johnson in person, over leased telephone wires or on closed television circuit.

There was the self-effacing, national AFL-CIO president, George Meany who made certain that a national AFL-CIO vice president spoke for the Johnson-Humphrey ticket at every statewide labor convention — a most unusual move.

It was George Meany who dispatched 1,200 telegrams to all national unions, state and local labor bodies during the last days of the campaign saying to their leaders "I urge you to devote all the available energy of your organization to the AFL-CIO's get-out-the-vote drive on Election Day."

THERE WERE men such as Paul Hall, president of the Seafarers International Union, who saw to it that 150 loudspeaking trucks rolled through the big ports of the land rallying all listeners, not just union members, to "the ticket."

Multiply these men by a thousand and more and you merely begin to get a picture of what went into labor's drive for Lyndon Baines Johnson.

Local School district was assured a new $429,000 high school with the passage of a bond issue at the general election.

Columbiana County recorded a vote of only 30,252 in an unusually light turnout even for an "off-year" election.

Wayne T. Dorsey of East Liverpool was installed as chief deacon of Columbiana County Vaure 273 of the 40 & 8 Society.

Today In History

Today is Thursday, Nov. 5, the 310th day of 1964. There are 56 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1940, Franklin D. Roosevelt was elected for a third term as president. Roosevelt's victory broke the established precedent of a limit of two terms.

On this date: In 1930, author Sinclair Lewis received the Nobel Prize for Literature.

In 1942, British Field Marshal Sir Bernard Montgomery announced his armies had won complete victory in Egypt.

Ten years ago — U.N. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge announced the United States and seven other nations had revised plans for a pool of nuclear materials.

Five years ago — An X15 rocket plane on an experimental flight made an emergency landing after exploding over Edwards Air Force Base in California; the pilot was unhurt.

One year ago — A Republican vote of more than 100,000 in the election of a Democratic governor in Mississippi established a second party in the state for the first time since 1876.

Unresolved Issues

By David Lawrence

What Was Decided By The Votes?

The American people today know the winner of the presidential race, but do they know what was decided by the votes of more than 70 million persons — what issues were resolved and what policies were approved or disapproved?

President Johnson, in one of his David Lawrence speeches last week, said: "I want the mandate of this election to be written strong and clear so that none will mistake the meaning."

The campaign speeches themselves, however, were not clear, and there were plenty of contradictions and paradoxes. Neither the victorious nor the defeated candidate now can boast of a really united party. For when some of the major issues of the day are voted on in the coming Congress, it will be found that, as in previous years, a coalition of Republicans and Democrats will be lined up on one side, while a combination of opponents from both parties will be found voting the other way. Neither political party has managed to present a clear-cut case, and each has taken refuge in generalities of criticism or rebuttal.

The two biggest issues of the campaign, peace and prosperity, were affirmatively proclaimed by both candidates as their objectives but a presidential election does not necessarily mean that the views expressed will prevail. There was a considerable reluctance — indeed, a sense of misgiving — among many voters on each side to support the candidate for whom they cast their ballot. It was often a feeling that one party and its candidate represented the "lesser of two evils."

IT WOULD BE a mistake to assume that the election ends the fighting, the debate and the bitter feelings that have been engendered during the campaign. The defeated party will keep on fighting, and there will be many a reference to some of the campaign statements which attracted attention.

The apprehensions of the critics that America is drifting in its foreign policy and could become involved in a major war have not been abated. Nor have fears been dispelled that the economy of the United States is at the moment in the midst of an artificial boom as billions of dollars of borrowed money are used to prime the pump and as budget deficits keep on indefinitely.

Significantly, neither candidate during the campaign made a prediction as to when the budget would be balanced. The promises of more and more spending were reiterated. Yet, in Europe as well as in America, there is an undercurrent of anxiety lest unsound fiscal policies sooner or later come to a climax.

Dissatisfaction with the nature of the campaign is widespread. The assumption of the politicians is that the people like "folksy" talks, handshaking, and baby-kissing. Attempts to portray a congenial personality are hardly substitutes, however, for an exposition of the issues that face the American people in these troublous times.

IT'S OBVIOUS that the minority party had no opportunity to prepare its campaign until after the Republican National Convention. It was too short a period in which to present thoughtfully prepared speeches on current subjects. The incumbent administration enjoyed big advantages in publicity.

Neither candidate defined comprehensively what kind of foreign policy the world could expect from the United States if he were elected.

The Communist assumed that the Johnson policy meant an accommodation or concessions and that his defeat would bring a more resolute position against both Red China and the Soviets.

The American people did not get, during the campaign, a n y idea of what may lie ahead for them — whether their sons will be drafted for an enlarged war in Viet Nam or whether the trend toward higher unemployment will be resumed when the economy faces a crisis.

THESE ISSUES are not the only ones that have produced worry about which were really glossed over during the campaign.

Notable among them is the civil rights controversy. The Democrats gave it scant attention and the Republicans, except for a few generalities, did the same.

Yet the civil rights act affects citizens everywhere and the question of enforcement looms large. Undoubtedly there was a considerable protest vote cast in certain states and many persons who preferred to ignore the issue will not, of course, be able to forget it or be unmindful of its consequences as the law is enforced.

It would be interesting, indeed, to have some of the pollsters take another sounding just a year from now to ask the people whether they were glad they voted Democratic or Republican in the presidential contest of 1964.

The Khrushchev Puzzle

By Arnold Beichman

One of the curious and thus far least-discussed aspects of Nikita Khrushchev's ouster last month is the question of whether the victim knew or didn't know about the conspiracy against him.

The reason this is a live question is that the answers, if any, may afford some clues as to the potential stability of the new Brezhnev - Kosygin - Podgorny regime as well as to what may be the changing character of the Soviet Union since Stalin's death.

Sovietologists, with impeccable academic credentials, are asking where were the secret police — or at least that section of Khrushchev's own personal police entourage — when the plot (or plots) were being hatched against him?

HOW COME that the subject of what must have been a number of private discussions among presidium members never leaked to the deposed Soviet leader, that there wasn't a timely tip-off to Khrushchev? Sovietologists confess themselves puzzled that a man with Khrushchev's background who knew how power was achieved and how it had to be maintained could somehow remain unaware — until too late — of what was going on behind his back.

Analysts of Soviet affairs argue that had Khrushchev known about the plot against him, he would not have waited for a last-minute invitation to appear before the party "apparatchiks" to argue his lost cause. He would have been in Moscow at the first moment, not to reverse a verdict, but to prevent it from being reached.

ANOTHER ANALYST said it was conceivable that Khrushchev didn't know, any more than Lavrenti Beria knew what was in store for him in the spring of 1953 when he was shot and killed at a meeting of the presidium. If the then head of the secret police didn't know he was to be assassinated in the Kremlin itself, Khrushchev himself might equally have been kept in the dark.

Some Sovietologists argue that the secret police, or at least Khrushchev's own police entourage, didn't know and that Soviet society since Stalin's death has so altered that the police can be and are shut out of party affairs.

Others suggest that the secret police were involved in the plot, having been persuaded that Khrushchev had seriously weakened or "downgraded" their powers. They were ready to do what they could to rid themselves of the "reformist" Khrushchev.

AN OVER-ALL consensus is that the Soviet Union today is ruled by men who are involved in a continuing series of interlocking conspiracies, which is nothing unusual in a totalitarian society where there is no rule of law or meaningful constitution.

One Sovietologist, a European who has been close to the Communist movement, suggested that the post-Stalin agreement among Soviet leaders that purges would not be followed by show trials and executions made conspiracies inevitable since there is now an immunity for unsuccessful "conspirators."

In Stalin's day, fear or torture, death and reprisals against the families of suspects was sufficient to quell any rebelliousness among party leaders.

Hit It Off In Fine Fashion

Johnson And Humphrey Winding Up Celebration

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson and Hubert H. Humphrey, his vice president-to-be, hit it off in fine fashion as they wound up a Texas hill country huddle today.

They looked much like peas in a pod as they hiked around the 400 presidential acres and rode horses in Western garb.

Humphrey, a one-time drug-gist, looked anything but that as he moseyed around the ranch on a horse which, from all appearances, was tame and well behaved.

The President greeted Humphrey and wife Muriel with an elaborate Texas barbecue Wednesday.

Hardly had the Minnesotan landed on the LBJ property when he was clapped into Western pants, Western jacket, Western boots and Western hat and, with a mite of encouragement, enticed to climb aboard the horse.

All this coincided with the barbecue served buffet-style at folding tables set up in a metal hangar, painted brass green, beside the taxi strip at the Johnson City municipal airport — the ranch runway.

Afterwards, Johnson took Humphrey in tow for a tour of his birthplace, reconstructed on the property, and other landmarks which he delights in showing to visitors.

Both were in a holiday mood and obviously enjoying their visit.

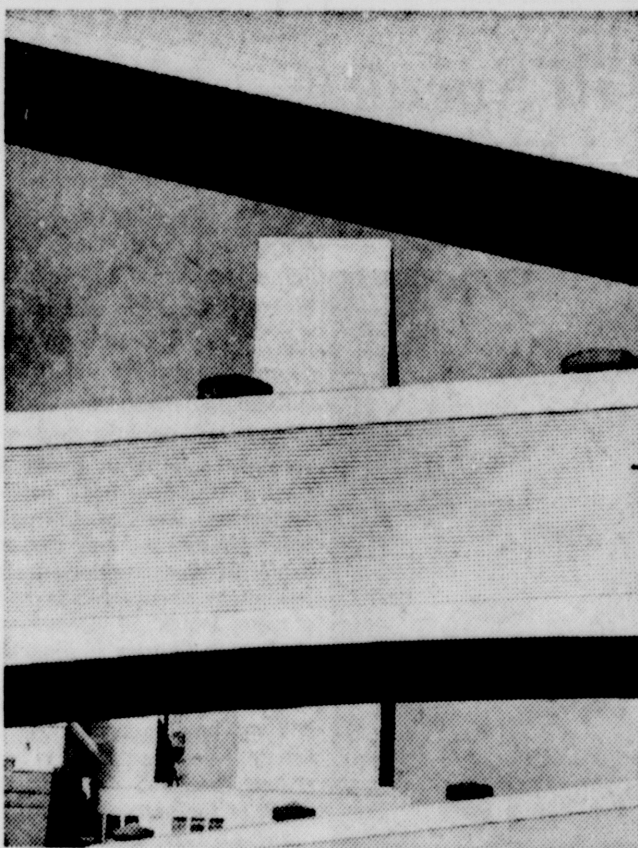

Privately, they talked about the future of the vice presidency — an office often scorned — and looked ahead to the legislative program the Johnson-Humphrey administration will offer to the nation in January.

Both men are graduates of the Senate and hope that, with this background, they can work in tandem to promote the "Great Society" proposals that will bear the LBJ brand.

Class In Navigation Held For Air Patrol

John McIntosh, cadet staff sergeant, led a class discussion on time, distance and direction navigation and conducted a demonstration on boxing a compass at a meeting of the Wells-ville Civil Air Patrol Wednesday evening at the Daw Junior High School.

Jerry Tipton, Information officer, said applications for new cadets are being accepted, and any area boy 13 to 18 may attend the meetings each Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. at the school.

Deaths and Funerals

Long Illness Claims Child

Rebecca Lou Brandon, 5½-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Brandon of Georgetown, died Wednesday at 10:40 p. m. at Children's Hospital in Pittsburgh, following a long illness.

She was born in Rochester, March 12, 1959.

Besides her parents, she is survived by two sisters, Carolyn Brandon and Marilyn Brandon, and a brother, David Brandon, all at home; her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. K. C. Moore of Chester, and her grandfather, William D. Brandon of Rochester.

Services will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. at the Welch Funeral Home in Hookstown. Burial will be in Mill Creek Hill Cemetery.

Friends may call Friday afternoon and night at the funeral home.

Charles Hoschar

Funeral services for Charles William (Bill) Hoschar of Hartford, W. Va., will be held there Friday afternoon.

Mr. Hoschar died Tuesday at 7 p. m. at home following a two-year illness. He was the brother of Mrs. Sadie Hatcher and Mrs. Nettie Hawk of Wellsville.

He also leaves his widow, Mrs. Goldie Hoschar at home;

a son, William Hoschar Jr. of Hartford; two daughters, Mrs. Eulah Olaker of Hartford and Mrs. Margaret Bricker of Mason City, a half-sister, Mrs. Alpie West of Ravenswood, and 10 grandchildren.

New Gains Reported For County Auto Sales

Despite a crippling General Motors strike, new car sales in Columbiana County since the start of the fiscal year July 1 stand at levels ahead of the same time in 1963, according to a report on sales tax collections issued today at Columbus by State Treasurer John D. Herbert.

Auto business has produced $255,526 in sales tax revenue since the beginning of the fiscal year, up $20,478 from the $235,048 shown at the same time in 1963. The collections hit $24,877 in the two weeks ending Oct. 31, off $6,145 from the $31,022 shown at the same time in 1963.

Sales tax on other items produced $37,122 in the two weeks ending Oct. 31, a gain of $8,617 from the $28,505 shown at the same time last year. Since the start of the fiscal year, the county collections stand at $429,687, down $16,165 from the $445,852 shown at the same time in 1963.

Minnesota's Bill Crockett likes to return punts. He returned one 80 yards for a touchdown against Nebraska this fall.

Future Remains Obscure

Goldwater Now Points To Leftover Senate Job

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, determined to keep the Republican party on a conservative course, heads back to Washington Friday to handle some of the leftover business of the Senate seat he gave up for his losing race against President Johnson.

For the moment Goldwater's long-range future remained obscure. But the beaten Republican nominee has served notice he plans to spend a lot of time working to lead and strengthen the GOP.

In the days ahead Goldwater plans to take care of some Senate mail and some other matters in Washington, then head for a vacation with his wife at an undisclosed spot.

While more liberal members of the party made plans to rebuild the GOP in their image, Goldwater declared: "I don't think we can build a Republican party on their concepts which, in my opinion, have no difference at all with the Democratic concept."

At a concession news conference Wednesday, Goldwater said he does not think the conservative cause "has been hurt at all," despite his landslide loss.

Conservatism, he insisted, is a philosophy the Republican party

"must cling to and strengthen in the years ahead."

Goldwater said he does not expect to be the nominee again in 1968, declaring his role "would be better played" in building Republican organization and raising party funds.

That is the job he did before he rose to top the Republican ticket.

Goldwater had no specific plans to offer on the shape of his drive to rebuild the beaten GOP.

The senator plans to move to Phoenix eventually but said he will keep his apartment in Washington.

"I am not seeking employment there," he added.

6 Women To Make Beaver Ballot Count

BEAVER — County commissioners have appointed five women, with a sixth to be named, to a board to make the official count of Beaver County's ballots in Tuesday's election.

They will be sworn in Friday and start the tally Monday.

Named to the board were Ethel Powell of New Brighton, Barbara Zapsic of Midland, Mary Spear of Baden and Mary Laria and Lucy Cellini of Beaver Falls.

Legion At Newell To Hold Banquet

Plans for the annual Veterans Day and kickoff membership banquet were completed at a meeting of Newell American Legion Post 114 Wednesday evening. The affair will be held Nov. 14 in the post home.

Charles R. Rayburn reported on the recent Halloween parade and treat sponsored by the post and auxiliary, and also read a letter of thanks from the children sponsored by the post in the recent "King for a Day" ceremonies in Charleston.

Deposed President Flees

Bolivia's Loyal Forces Resist New Military Rule

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP)—Fighting continued in La Paz Wednesday night as militia units loyal to deposed President Victor Paz Estenssoro resisted the nation's new military regime.

Seven persons were reported killed and 50 injured as air force planes attacked buildings occupied by police and strafed militiamen on a hill near the capital. Students and workers also attacked the buildings held by the police.

Paz, 57, who became president when a popular uprising threw out a military junta in 1952, fled with his family and aides to Peru in a Bolivian military plane.

He told newsmen in Lima his vice president, Air Force Gen. Gene Barrientos, was to blame for the coup.

"He wanted to be president so he rounded up air force and army support and overthrew me," Paz said. "I still have the support of my people."

Paz said the head of Bolivia's new military junta, Gen. Alfredo Obando Candia, "is the best of the lot. He was not mixed up with the others, but Barrientos will doubtless try to become president one way or another."

Obando is commander of Bolivia's armed forces. He told the nation the junta will hold power as briefly as possible and will hold new elections.

Johnson

secretary of State George W. Ball, the State Department's top expert on Allied problems.

There is also talk that Johnson may ask Ball alone to carry out such a mission.

Speculation that Johnson will send an emissary to Europe increases as it becomes more and more unlikely that the President himself will go there this year. During the campaign he spread the word that he might find some occasion to address a NATO meeting in November or December. He was represented as being deeply concerned about splintering Allied unity in Europe.

Actually the post-election period will bring talks in Washington of considerable importance to the alliance. Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak is due here next week for consultations with Secretary of State Dean Rusk. Spaak, a former secretary-general of NATO, has been one of the European leaders most actively interested in trying to find solutions for NATO's divisive problems and for the severe economic disagreement between France and West Germany within the European Common Market.

In about a month, British Prime Minister Harold Wilson plans to come here for talks with Johnson. He is anxious to find some formula for shifting Britain's nuclear weapons force to NATO and he would like to modify the U.S. plan for a NATO nuclear navy toward which the British have been cool for several years.

The key personality in the discussion which could tear NATO apart is De Gaulle.

He is threatening to drop out of the Common Market unless West Germany comes to terms quickly on a European grain price plan. He has also implied that so far as France is concerned U.S. success in carrying through the plan for a NATO nuclear navy would split NATO wide open — the implication being that France would virtually withdraw from the alliance.

have to function for nine months in space; the craft must obey radio commands sent to them from earth stations, millions of miles away; and must be able to transmit photographs and scientific information from 150 million miles in space.

Key information sought is the density of the Martian atmosphere. Mariner 3 is supposed to collect it during a swift 60-second penetration of that atmosphere before skimming past the planet into orbit about the sun.

Mariner 3's television camera was designed to snap 22 pictures during a 30-minute period of near encounter. The spacecraft is equipped with magnetic tape to store the pictures to be transmitted to earth one or two times each during a 10 to 20-day period after the vehicle has passed Mars. Because of the extreme communication distance, nearly nine hours would be required to transmit one picture.

At Steelworkers Hall

McDonald Will Speak At Pensioners' Dinner

David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers of America, will be speaker at the annual pensioners' dinner of the Midland Steelworkers Local 1212 Sunday at 6 p. m. in the Steelworkers Hall.

The welcome address will be given by Mayor Eli Corak, and James L. Mullen, former staff representative, will be toastmaster. The dinner is for retired or pensioned members of the union.

Kay Kluz, District 20 director, and Joseph D'Alesio, president of Local 1212, will give remarks.

Other guests will include Joseph Krivan of Ambridge and Carl Beck of Youngstown, staff representatives.

Besides D'Alesio other officers include Edward Melvin, general grievance committeeman; George Bradshaw, recording secretary; John F. Phillips, vice president; Thomas Gallagher, financial secretary; Joseph Prodonovich and Mal Evans, trustees.

Gifts will be presented to the pensioners. Dinner music will be provided by Jimmie Rubo and his combo from Rochester.

Fr. Francis E. Paul, pastor of the Midland Presentation Catholic Church, will give the invocation.

Dedication Set Nov. 30

6 Communities Will Join In Midland Bridge Rites

Six Western Beaver County communities will join in dedication ceremonies of the new Midland - Shippingport Bridge, Monday, Nov. 30, when the structure will be opened to traffic.

Ceremonies at the span over the Ohio River, near Midland, will be held at 10 a. m. on Route 66 on the north or Midland side of the river.

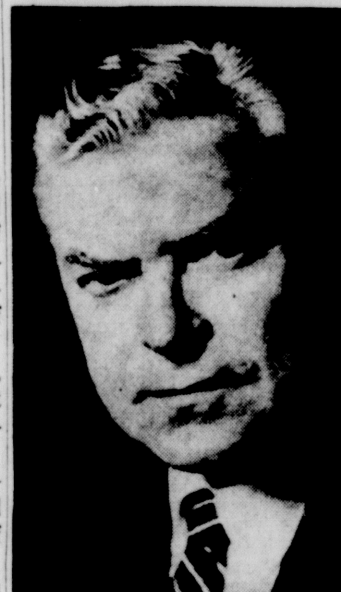

Mayors of Georgetown, Hookstown, Industry, Ohioville, Shippingport and Midland, and a member of Glasgow Borough Council will officiate at the ribbon cutting.

Bands of the three high schools in the district, Midland, Western Beaver, and South Side, will provide music. Eli G. Corak, mayor of Midland and Beaver County commissioner, will be master of ceremonies.

Participating in the flag ceremony will be Ohioville Senior Girl Scout Troop 267 and Midland Explorer Post 482, Boy Scouts and Midland Posts 481 and 533, and South Side Post 953, American Legion.

Wilbur C. Webb, chief deputy secretary of Pennsylvania Department of Highways, will be principal speaker. Others who will speak are James Russell, president of the South Side Civic association; Michael Baker Jr., architect and engineer; A. A. Benintend, representative of Ben Construction Co., contractor; Guy F. McCracken, assistant works manager of the Crucible Steel Co., and Kay Kluz, director of District 20 of the United Steelworkers.

Honored guests will include county and state officials and Joseph D'Alesio, president of Steelworkers Local 1212, Guy E. Gengarella, president of Midland Area Chamber of Commerce, and John Joseph, president of the Western Beaver County Area Development Committee.

DAVID McDONALD
Head Of Steelworkers Union.

cation and the Rev. James Marbre, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Midland, the invocation.

The committee in addition to the Executive Board includes Joseph Kadilak, Carmen Cananzi, William Allison, Mitchell Disore, Frank Mosura, Robert Neal, John Gregor, John Zdinak, Louis Bruno, Joseph Rotuna and James Mullen Jr.

Legislature

portioned as close as possible on the basis of population.

There has been no official word from Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes on expanding his special session call but his No. 1 aide, John McElroy, said Wednesday that a lot of thought will go into the matter.

The legislature by law may consider only those things set forth in the governor's call.

Mechem, veteran lawmaker from Nelsonville and majority leader at recent GOP-controlled assemblies, went down to defeat at the hands of Democratic challenger Charles L. Pancake, also of Nelsonville.

The Republicans, next year, still will be able to organize the Senate, selecting the clerk, committee chairmen and covering much of the patronage with the aid of Lt. Gov. John W. Brown, R - Medina, who can break tie votes on Senate organization matters, but not on legislation.

The GOP House losses mean that Speaker Roger Cloud must find new chairmen for committees where presiding officers were defeated.

These include the education committee (Robert H. Longworth, Carroll), industry - labor (William W. Milligan, Shelby), highways (Lytle G. Zuber, Franklin), and finance welfare (Kenneth L. Beckwith, Morgan).

special officer — from Clifford Bebout of 2nd St., who previously served as patrolman, and from George Cowey of Carolina Ave., High-Ten officer.

Applications have already been received from Robert Kincaid, William McIntosh and Robert Gray Jr.

Council tabled action indefinitely on selecting the extra officer or until Mayor Harry Abrams needs to have the post filled.

At present Joe Bryan is extra officer, assisting Police Chief Harold Davis and Patrolman Audley Campbell.

Bills totaling $1,300 were paid. Receipts of $4,200 were reported, largely from utility and liquor tax sources.

2 Cited In Lack Of Licenses For Pinball Devices

Two Wellsville men, accused of not having city licenses for a pinball machine, await hearings after being cited Wednesday afternoon.

Harry Gould of 4th St. Recreation was accused of displaying a pinball machine without a license while Robert R. Logan, 516 Broadway, was charged with distributing the machine without a license.

Police Chief John Hephner filed the affidavits. The chief was accompanied by Patrolman Edwin James.

Logan was the central figure early this year in a bribery charge against Chief Hephner on which the veteran officer was cleared by the Municipal Civil Service Commission.

Out Of The Air

By RICHARD K. DOAN
The Equal Time Rule

Frank Stanton, president of the Columbia Broadcasting System and long-time outspoken foe of the equal-time rule, is openly bitter about the effects of the rule on the 1964 campaign. He has called it a "situation comedy."

The veteran broadcaster, who is believed to be on close and good terms with Lyndon Johnson, can be expected in the months ahead to spearhead a new TV industry effort to wring a repeal of Section 315 of the Communications Act out of Congress.

but also tragic. And far more important than the fact that broadcasters have been handcuffed is the fact that the American people have been deprived of the type of full disclosure of information on candidates which they enjoyed four years ago and to which they are entitled.

"It is a deplorable retrogression."

THE BLAME for this "intolerable and absurd situation," the official observed, "lies not with the FCC, not with the courts, not with the candidates, not with the broadcasters—but squarely with Congress."

Congress suspended Section 315 in 1960 to permit the Nixon-Kennedy TV debates. The lawmakers commonly are believed to have shelved suspension of the rule this year at the request of the White House, presumably because President Johnson wished to avoid debates.

AN NBC OFFICIAL figuratively raised his right hand and swore it was no gag.

The network had received a telegram from a man in Dallas reading:

"Request information on United Network Command for Law Enforcement which is given acknowledgement for assistance in filming 'Man From U.N.C.L.E.' on NBC network."

"If such organization exists, superseding national law enforcement agencies, then citizenship should be informed. Local FBI said information would have to be supplied by NBC. Please answer."

Autos Run Amuck

GLASGOW, Ky. — There was a rash of fender-benders on Race Street and not a driver in sight. Police said the brakes on a late model car gave way and it started down the hill. The run-away crossed the street and hit a parked car. The second car hit a truck which in turn smashed another parked car.

Calcutta Man Hurts Finger

A Calcutta man hurt at work on a truck and a Chester woman injured in a fall from a ladder were among eight area residents treated at City Hospital Wednesday.

Donald Paulin, 40, of Calcutta received a laceration of a finger of the right hand on a truck. Esther Hayes of 5th St., Chester, suffered bruises of the right elbow, ankle, wrist and arm in a fall from a ladder.

Annual Meeting Reset By Franklin Firemen

SUMMITVILLE — The date of the annual meeting of the Franklin Volunteer Fire Department, scheduled Nov. 11, was changed to Nov. 17 at a meeting of the trustees Wednesday night.

The meeting was changed because notice cards could not be mailed in the required 10 days.

Bills totaling $5 were paid.

'Losing' Jockey Gets Leniency In 2 Traffic Cases

A Waterford Park Race Track jockey who blamed his traffic troubles on a lost wallet was given lenient treatment today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff after he proved he has taken steps to replace a lost driver's license and registration card.

Jack Sturgeon of Covington, Ky., told the court his motor vehicle papers — and his license to ride horses — were all contained in a wallet which he lost recently at River Downs in Cincinnati.

Sturgeon was cited Friday on the Diamond on charges of driving without an operator's permit and improper auto registration. He produced a duplicate driver's license in court today and said he now has proper tags on his car. The auto formerly carried a 10-day temporary plate which a vandal ripped off, he said.

Judge Chertoff fined Sturgeon $15 and costs on the registration charge, but suspended the fine on payment of the costs. Sturgeon was ordered to pay the costs in the license charge.

First Aid Course Set By CD Unit In St. Clair

Plans to launch a first aid training course were completed at a meeting of the St. Clair Township Civil Defense unit Wednesday night at the Glenmoor fire station.

Open to any individual, the course will begin Nov. 18. Those interested in enrolling may attend the next meeting Wednesday at 7:30 p. m.

Gary Snook of Iowa set two Big Ten records in the Washington game. He netted 233 yards, 18 of them rushing and 215 on passes. Snook's 19 completions in 32 attempts also was a Big Ten mark.

Years of training and experience qualify your doctor to prescribe medications in exactly the right amount.

Rockefeller Says Barry Finished As GOP's Leader

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller indicated today that he considers Sen. Barry Goldwater's leadership of the Republican party finished.

Asked whether the defeated presidential candidate should continue to lead the party, New York's Republican governor said: "That has been sufficiently answered in the elections."

He told newsmen it is absolutely necessary to "revitalize the Republican party in the state." He said he had already begun such an effort in New York.

Rockefeller and his wife arrived from New York today for a week's vacation in Spain.

Ohio Presbyterian Homes Subject For Trinity Group

A program on Ohio Presbyterian Homes was presented for the meeting of the Women's Association of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church Tuesday night in the Bethlehem Room.

The Rev. Thomas G. Holmes of Sidney, executive director of Ohio Presbyterian Homes, listed the congregated living homes established at Youngstown, Akron, Mt. Pleasant, Cincinnati, Sidney, Columbus and Monroe. He spoke on the spiritual security and physical needs of elder people which the homes aim to provide.

John Herzog, business manager, screened color slides. They plan to attend the Homes for the Aged Conference next week at Washington. The Rev. M. Rudolph Miller, pastor, introduced them. Mrs. Edward Aliulis was program chairman.

Mrs. Willard Birkett conducted devotions, reading "The Legend of the Five Kernels" and a responsive meditation, "Praise." Group hymns were "Come Ye Thankful People Come" and "Now Thank We All Our God." Mrs. Louise Van Fossen was accompanist.

Mrs. James Fortner led the prayer for missions, remembering stations in California and India.

A dedication service for the year's projects was conducted by Mrs. Carl Porter, World Service chairman; Mrs. G. Alan Emmerling, national and overseas sewing, and Mrs. Curtis Miller, services. A display was arranged on tables along with canned goods for the Youngstown Home.

Mrs. Leland Pittenger, president, opened business with prayer. She announced 16 attended the District 1 session at the Grace church. Volunteers were registered for the dinner the association will serve Nov. 24 for the Non Pareil Club.

Mrs. Dale Thornton read the minutes and Mrs. Kenneth Persohn, the financial report. Mrs. Porter reported on the rummage sale and Mrs. Miller gave suggestions for Christmas gifts for the County Home near Lisbon.

The group voted an increase in apportionments for national and ecumenical missions and the Board of Christian Education.

Mrs. Earl Cain read revisions to the constitution which will be voted at the next session. Rev. Miller gave the benediction.

Refreshments were served 50 members of the Patience Group. Mrs. Bayard Hunsicker and Mrs. Herbert Smith, co-chairmen, were assisted by Mrs. George Woods and Mrs. Philip Fuhrer. The buffet table was centered with an arrangement of yellow and rust mums, flanked by white tapers in crystal candelabra. Thanksgiving appointments were used.

The next session will be Dec. 1 when a Christmas program will be presented. The Faith Group will be hostess unit.

Score Gains In Other Contests

Negroes Capture Seats In 4 State Legislatures

CHICAGO (AP) — Negroes won seats in four state legislatures for the first time in Tuesday's elections and scored gains in other state and local contests, an Associated Press survey shows.

They also gained at least 10 seats in legislatures of 10 states where Negroes had previously served.

There were also these firsts:

Tennessee — First Negro member of the General Assembly since the Reconstruction era after the Civil War.

New Jersey — First Negro assemblyman from outside the Newark area.

Colorado — First Negro district judge.

Alabama — First Negroes elected to four county offices in Macon County.

The highest ranking Negro seeking re-election, Republican Atty. Gen. Edward W. Brooke of Massachusetts, piled up a 2-1 margin over Democratic State Sen. James W. Hennigan, who is white.

Brooke did not endorse Republican Barry Goldwater for president.

Most of the winning Negroes ran as Democrats, some as independents.

Negroes elected to state legislatures that had been all-white included:

—Two members of the Iowa House of Representatives.

—A state senator in Delaware and one in Kansas.

—Three members of the Oklahoma House of Representatives.

Taking seats for the first time in the Iowa Legislature will be Mrs. Willie Stevenson Glanton of Des Moines and James Jackson of Waterloo. Both are Democrats.

Herman N. Holloway, former state representative, became the first Negro elected to Delaware's Senate. He is from Wilmington, and a Democrat.

In Oklahoma, E. Melvin Porter, an official of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in Oklahoma City, won a seat in the state Senate, while John B. White, Archibald Hill and Curtis L. Lawton were elected to the House of Representatives. Lawton is from Tulsa, and the other two from Oklahoma City. Both cities received increased representation in the legislature after reapportionment this fall.

A. W. Willis, a Memphis, Tenn., lawyer who had represented James Meredith in his legal battle to enter the University of Mississippi, was elected to the Tennessee Assembly.

In New Jersey, the Rev. S. Howard Woodson Jr., will represent Mercer County (Trenton) in the Assembly. The Rev. Mr. Woodson, a former member of the Trenton City Council won by about 5,000 votes, one-tenth of President Johnson's margin in the county.

James C. Flanagan trailed three other candidates, but captured the last of four vacancies for the post of district court judge in Colorado. He ousted a Republican incumbent in the eight-man race.

In Macon County, Ala., Dr. Charles Gomillion was elected to the county Board of Education. William C. Allen and William Childs won justice of the peace posts, and the Rev. V. A. Edwards, won a seat on the Board of Revenue, governing body of the county. Negroes outnumber whites in the county, but four other Negro candidates were defeated by Democrats. Most of the Negroes ran as independents.

Negroes also picked up more seats in legislatures in Indiana, Oklahoma, Georgia, California, New York and Massachusetts. They also re-elected incumbents in Washington, Ohio, Arizona and Nebraska.

Given Post In Wisconsin.

Crucible Shifts Industry Man In Promotion Step

The promotions of five Crucible Steel Co. employees, one as chief cost accountant at the company's Trent Tube plant in Wisconsin, and four as foremen at the Midland Works, have been announced by J. G. Gill, vice president - production.

M. E. Jurkovic of Industry, budget supervisor at the Midland Works, will be chief cost accountant at the East Troy (Wisc.) plant.

Jurkovic joined the Midland Works Accounting Department in 1952 as cost clerk and then served as general ledger accountant, 1956, divisional accountant, 1958, supervisor-standard cost, 1959, and budget supervisor in 1960.

He is a director of the National Association of Accountants and is a past president of the Beaver Valley Chapter of the national association.

He and his wife and four children plan to move soon to East Troy.

Robert B. Fetterman, inspection sub - foreman in the Cold Strip and Silicon Mill, has been promoted to foreman.

Fetterman resides on Fairland Dr., Meadowbrook Estates, Ohioville.

Francis A. Vallera, maintenance sub - foreman, Hot Strip and Cold Strip, since last year, has been named turn foreman, maintenance, Hot Strip.

He attended Wellsville High School and resides in Meadowbrook Estates.

Arthur I. Dougherty has been named foreman, maintenance, bar mills east and silicon, and Kenneth H. Johns has been promoted to foreman in the cold drawn area of the heat treat and cold drawn department. Both reside on Beaver R. D. 2.

Club To Meet At Salineville

The Buds and Blossoms Club of Salineville will meet Monday night with Mrs. Ruth Bettis of Salineville R. D.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bridge of Wood St. visited at Wellsville Wednesday.

Mrs. Thelma Ferguson and Mrs. Doris Ferguson visited at Carrollton Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Goddard returned Tuesday from a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Troy Brookshire and sons. Mr. and Mrs. Brookshire, son - in - law and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Goddard, returned for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Wade Clark and son, Douglas, of Summitville visited here Tuesday.

Mrs. Ray Laughlin and daughter, Sandy, and Misses Mary Ewing and Cynthia Jeffries of Lisbon R. D. visited here Tuesday.

Coleman Cites War-Peace Issue In Democrat Win

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State chairman William L. Coleman says the war and peace issue gave Democrats the campaign vehicle they needed to roll up big victories in Ohio.

"There is no question that the No. 1 issue was whether people wanted a steady man at the (nuclear) controls," Coleman said Wednesday in reference to President Johnson's landslide victory.

He added, however, that other factors were equally important, including organizational work and "Republican oversimplification" of the issues.

Coleman said he and other party leaders anticipated the outcome of most of the races, including the successful re-election bid of Sen. Stephen M. Young over GOP challenger Robert Taft Jr.

"There were a number of factors responsible for our victory. In any race, you have to have the horses. We had them, and we had a lot of things going for us," Coleman said.

Cincinnati's Voters OK Charter Proposal

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati voters approved Tuesday an amendment to the city charter that will put firemen on an equal pay scale with policemen.

The firefighters plea drew the most interest of the local issues and was passed by the narrow margin of 81,216 to 78,323.

City and Hamilton County voters teamed up and gave a big approval to the $30 million bond issue. The vote was 203,608 for and 120,740 against. Top-priority projects include improvements to existing expressways and building new ones in and around the city. Several streets also are to be widened and new bridges built.

Report Says Johnson Will Visit Australia

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Sydney afternoon newspapers said today President Johnson probably would visit Australia next year.

The Sun reported from Canberra, the Australian capital, the visit probably would be between March and May and that the President almost certainly would bring his wife and daughters.

There was no confirmation in Canberra of this. Prime Minister Sir Robert Menzies issued an invitation to Johnson when he visited Washington last June.

University Changes Dental Degree Name

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The School of Dental Medicine at the University of Pennsylvania has changed the name of the traditional D.D.S. — Doctor of Dental Surgery — degree given its graduates.

From now on, Dean Lester W. Burket said Wednesday, they will receive a Doctor of Dental Medicine degree or D.M.D. for the Latin version — Dentariae Medicinae Doctor.

Dentists today, he said, no longer are limited to drilling, filling and pulling teeth, but are increasingly skilled in "basic science and total patient care."

Bringing Up A Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

Older Children Can Aid With Youngster

"My problem concerns Don, age eight. Up to now, he doesn't show much interest in sports and I am afraid he is growing up too 'sissified' with three sisters and a mother always around him. The girls are aged 19 (studying nursing — in her last year now), 12 and 4½. He has a Dr. Garry Myers big brother, age 23, who is away, studying to be a missionary priest.

"My husband is in the hospital and has been since Easter of this year. So you see this leaves Don too much around girls with no male influence to speak of. There are no boys his age in the neighborhood for him to play with so I either send him away from the house to play with a boy or boys near his age or sometimes the boy or boys come here.

"HE IS an A student—going into the third grade. He is a normal boy, affectionate with me; helps me whenever I ask him. He likes to do things with electricity and can figure out problems for himself or he just makes things with his imaginative mind. He's very sharp and inquisitive. Always asks a million questions and wants to get at the root of the matter — no sidetrack answers will do, even if we have to refer to books in any form.

"He is also a 'monster' sometimes, very contrary, getting in everyone's hair and causing trouble with his sisters. He battles on them and I think he likes to see them punished. He's really too close to home and I wanted to send him to day camp this summer but it made him so unhappy to think I wanted to send him away that I abandoned the idea.

"HE LIKES to play alone most of the time; making things with whatever is around — strings, boxes, staples, paper, etc. Am I asking too much of him to want him to be more of a boy? And how do I go about it without my husband and older son around to help?"

My reply in part: I wonder if those grown-up children might not be able to do a lot for your boy. If they could take an interest in him, maybe they could find ways to get him to play more with other boys of his age. It would be fine if he became a Cub Scout.

Instead of telling him not to spend so much time with girls, quietly strive to set the stage so he will be with more boys of his age. Try to attract more of them to your home—one at a time at first; more later. There you might be able to guide him in learning skills that the other boys will admire and participate in.

AS YOUR child seems to have a lot of good traits, of which you show appreciation, I hope you play them up and build on them. Apparently, he needs some restraint when he becomes a nuisance to the girls and other persons in the family.

Next summer tell him when the day camp will begin. Don't be chicken-hearted about his wanting to stay home.

I hope you forbid his viewing programs of violence on the air.

Student Council At OSU Rejects Book On Johnson

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The council of Ohio State University's Student Union has taken another look at "A Texan Looks at Lyndon" and decided not to allow the book on the shelves of the union browsing library.

The book, a paperback, was donated to the library last month, along with several other titles, by the OSU Conservative Club.

But coed-librarian Gayle Waxman removed the books from the shelves, saying, "If they would place these books on the shelves, then other groups would want to send their literature—and I know that Communist or Nazi literature would be refused."

The Conservative Club protested to the council, which decided that it would enforce a library rule against accepting paperbacks but take the other books back. Other titles among the 40 books originally donated were "None Dare Call It Treason," "A Choice Not an Echo," and "Witness."

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN
Dieters Play Follow-The-Leader

What is the most important single factor in reducing? From the letters I receive, it is clear that above all else you must first make that inner decision to take action. The day you decide "I've put up with this fat long enough!" that's it.

Reading about the success of others helps to strengthen your conviction that you can reach your healthy, normal weight. Today's models should give your spirits a lift. From Wisconsin:

"I JUST read your article about will power being connected with a goal. I was the kind that was always going on a diet tomorrow, or next week. The time for starting never seemed to be just right.

"One day I shopped for a new dress and found that size 16 was impossible to find. That size 18 seemed so large. I was getting into the fat lady's class! On the spot I made up my mind that now was the time for action. I am happy that I now wear my perfect size, which is 12. I feel like a new person, thanks to my decision to take action."

A teenager from Michigan has written a letter to encourage other struggling young dieters:

"I hope that my story will help someone else. I have always been very fat and it wasn't until last year that I realized I had just two years of high school left. . . and I was missing all the fun of parties and games.

"I am now 16 years old, 5' 5" tall. Last March when I began my diet I weighed 197 pounds. Since then I have very slowly, but steadily, lost 27 pounds, bringing me to my present weight of 170 pounds.

"I am under the doctor's supervision and restrict my intake to 1000 calories a day. Since I dislike calisthenics I am toning as I lose by walking and taking other forms of all round exercise.

"BUT I think, perhaps, the most wonderful part of all is the way my friends and teachers have noticed and encouraged me. My parents are very proud, and even people I hardly know stop to tell me how much nicer I look.

"I especially enjoy your articles to young people. Tell other struggling young dieters. I can only say . . . 'Stick with a protective eating plan and don't give up.' It's not easy, particularly at first, but it will pay off. My goal is to lose another 40 pounds. I know I can. You can, too!"

Bravo! You have what it takes — courage and a goal. Thank you for sharing!

Vatican Council Discussion To Concern Church Schema

By BISHOP MUSSIO
Of Steubenville Diocese

The Consilium Fathers are now discussing the schema, "The Church in the Modern World." Attention to this schema will probably continue until the close of this session on Nov. 20. It was announced Oct. 23 that there would be a fourth session. When has not been announced yet. There is much to do and to do it well time is necessary.

With the many and great problems besetting the world today it is important that this current schema be properly developed. Most of today's conflicts have a moral implication at their core. This is why people become almost fanatic in upholding one or the other view; why they touch the nerve centers of the entire society of man.

People, as a whole, want to do the right thing; they don't want to act contrary to God's teachings, they do not want to side-step the truth. But they need to help to solve their problems and they look to the Church for that assistance.

What are some of the problems of the modern world? Famine, poverty, war, segregation, colonization, apartheid, illiteracy, social injustices in housing, labor opportunities, birth control, unbridled sex commercialism, atheism, communism, secularism, materialism, godlessness, to mention just a few.

To these people want answers, not evasion. The Church wants to give frank, decisive answers but a simple "yes" or "no" is not always possible. Life is not that simple and uncomplicated. It takes study to understand situation and the conditions of their existence. A principle may be clear and definite; the application must be carefully applied so that injustice may not be done. That is why this schema is so vital and worthy of the best efforts of the bishops. To do it right requires time, study, prayer and persistence.

The will to do this job well is there in the Council Hall. The will is there to face the problems besetting our modern world. There are a few who would be most satisfied if this schema were dropped and forgotten. To them, it seems unwise for the Church to spell out solutions to modern problems.

These men fear the world as if it were leperous. Do these men forget that Christ went to the lepers and cured them? A few men here at the Council would isolate themselves from the world and shake from their robes the dust of its conflicts. They talk in generalities leaving it to the people in need to draw their own conclusions. I think this is somewhat cowardly inasmuch as any mistakes can be blamed on the people, leaving these churchmen high and dry of criticism. They want to "play it safe" in a world where nothing is safe unless it is nailed down by convictions and truths.

If these men had their way there would be no schema on "The Church in the Modern World." There would be no Council, no aggiornamento. I am confident that the Holy Spirit working in this Council will thrust aside such a narrow and unchristian spirit. The will of the majority to attack the problems of our time is an enlightening revelation of the true spirit of Vatican Council II.

American Legion At Midland Airs Christmas Toy Project

Discussion of the annual Christmas toy program featured the meeting of the Midland American Legion Post 481 Monday night at the post home.

Steve Crano, chairman, is to announce plans for the annual project at a later date.

Carl C. Muschweck of East Liverpool, Nick Seelp and Don White, both of Midland, were received as new members.

Truman E. Rodfong, newly-appointed blood bank chairman, urged members to sign for the blood bank caravan.

William E. Coble, auxiliary chairman, reported that Mrs. Lester Barr is the new president of the auxiliary, succeeding Mrs. John Waddingham, who resigned.

Plans were discussed to sponsor a "Back to God" movement, with the showing of a "Go to Church" short at the Liberty Theater in Midland.

It was announced Miss Patty Doyle, who represented the unit at the Miss Veterans Day

2 High Masses Slated For Church At Lisbon

LISBON — High Mass will be conducted Friday at 7:30 a.m. and 7 p.m. in St. George's Catholic Church as part of the first Friday of the month observance in honor of the Sacred Heart of Jesus.

The evening Mass will be sung by the Girls' Choir directed by Miss Betty McKenna, with Miss Jo Ann Klug, organist. Confessions in preparation for the "first Friday" rites will be heard tonight from 7 to 8 and Friday night at 6:30. Holy Communion will be taken to the sick and aged four times Friday morning — at 6:30, 8, 9 and 10. Fr. William Hohman is pastor.

Gov. Romney Faced With New Worry

DETROIT (AP) — While talk of the 1968 presidential nomination and Republican rebuilding flutters around Michigan Gov. George Romney, he faces a home-state challenge that could make or break his national future before he even considers it.

Romney won overwhelming re-election Tuesday despite a Michigan landslide for President Johnson and found himself at the fore of GOP survivors.

He also found himself confronted with a state legislature of nearly two-thirds Democrats in each house — a jarring shift from the Republican majorities of Romney's first term.

The silver-haired former American Motors Corp. president said the Republican party must "broaden and unify." At the same time, Romney seemingly must broaden and unify his own administration program even beyond party bounds to have a chance for a successful second-term record.

He said he would work on a bipartisan basis and hoped for reciprocity. The beaten Democratic gubernatorial candidate, Neil Staebler, talked of cooperation.

The governor insisted that he has not considered seeking the 1968 nomination. He said a draft was "a very presumptuous thing to discuss."

In regard to national party rebuilding, he told a news conference Wednesday that he "can't see that I have any significant individual responsibility nationally."

"I do recognize that with others throughout the nation I can make contributions to broaden and unify the party nationally."

Practically speaking, Romney, 57, will have to decide what to do in 1966 before looking beyond. He could seek another term as governor—one of four years under a new constitutional provision—or he might try for Democratic Sen. Patrick McNamara's seat.

His success with the legislature could affect this choice.

Photography Solicitor Drops Dead At Lisbon
LISBON — A photographer salesman from Alliance died suddenly Wednesday at 1:30 p. m. while talking to a prospective client.

Carl P. Wansley, 64, was talking to Mrs. Viola Prasco, 338 E. Washington St., and fell backwards off the porch. A local physician was called and pronounced Mr. Wansley dead of a heart attack. He had a history of heart ailment.

He represented the Olin Mills Studios at Springfield.

Industry Dr. Repair Slated

Industry Borough Council was advised Wednesday night that improvements of the Upland Dr. section are scheduled to get under way possibly as early as next week.

A contract for $2,891 for the work was awarded to the H. R. Allen Co. of Beaver at a special meeting Oct. 26.

Ross Strohm, streets and roads chairman, reported on road work in the borough and said he has concentrated on Middle Rd., eliminating a slide area and cutting a curve.

Mayor W. B. MacBride gave the police report for October, which showed 23 complaints, three accidents and 1,668 miles of travel in the police car.

Bills totaling $1367.32 were paid. The next meeting will be Dec. 2.

Funeral To Be Friday For Ex-Sports Writer

CLEVELAND (AP)—Funeral services for Robert B. Evans, 52, a sportscaster and writer for 35 years, will be held at 3 p.m. Friday at the Knollwood Mausoleum, Knollwood Cemetery. He died Wednesday at his home in suburban Shaker Heights.

Evans was a sports writer for the Cleveland Plain Dealer for a short time in the early 1930s and later served as sports and special events director of the New England states for the National Broadcasting Co. He was a sports commentator on radio station WJW here until he retired four months ago because of illness.

Nominating Group Chosen For GOP Club

Dave Sakol was named chairman of the nominating committee to pick a slate of officers at the meeting of the East Liverpool Men's Republican Club Wednesday night at the Potters Savings & Loan Co. annex.

Others appointed by Richard T. Judge, president, were John Thompson, William Brokaw and Howard Parsons.

Named as an auditing committee were Frank Fluno, Robert Knowles and Dennis Smith. Nominations will be made from the floor prior to the election of officers at the meeting Dec. 2.

Marie Louise of Austria was the second wife of Napoleon Bonaparte.

Clothing, Toys Asked For Needy

There still is a need for winter outer clothing to distribute to needy families, Mrs. W. Clare Manypenny, city relief director, said today.

Meanwhile, the department has started collecting toys for distribution to needy youngsters at Christmas, she added.

She urged anyone donating toys to submit items which are repairable. City firemen customarily repair and repaint toys and play vehicles turned over to the department.

Some outer clothing has been donated to the department, Mrs. Manypenny said, but much of it is either too old or too lightweight for winter use.

Clothing items and toys can be left at the department's office on the second floor of Central Fire Station.

Southern Local Picks Varsity Cheerleaders

Four varsity basketball cheerleaders were selected this morning by the Southern Local High School Student Council and class officers.

Named were Susie Connell and Pam Adams of Salineville, Kathy Rose of Highlandtown and Sherry Mercer of Wellsville.

The reserve cheerleaders chosen are Gerry Dangelo, Jackie Needham, Jean Serafy and Priscilla Crist.

The freshmen cheerleaders are Dianne Adams, Nancy Fraser, Sue Mercer and Bonnie Coughen.

Rig Damage Hits $600 In Salineville Mishap

SALINEVILLE — About $600 damage was caused to a tractor-trailer truck driven by Alton L. Long, 42, of Poland when it went into a ditch in the West End Wednesday afternoon, Police Chief Earl Laney said.

Chief Laney said Long reported he was forced to pull to one side because of an oncoming truck driven by Vernon Smith of Flushing. Smith left the accident area before the arrival of police, Chief Laney added.

The first taxes in history were levied in ancient Egypt, where the Pharaohs demanded 20 per cent of all farm products of their people.

Photography Solicitor Drops Dead At Lisbon

LISBON — A photographer salesman from Alliance died suddenly Wednesday at 1:30 p. m. while talking to a prospective client.

Carl P. Wansley, 64, was talking to Mrs. Viola Prasco, 338 E. Washington St., and fell backwards off the porch. A local physician was called and pronounced Mr. Wansley dead of a heart attack. He had a history of heart ailment.

He represented the Olin Mills Studios at Springfield.

Rehabilitation Group Sets Dinner And Tour

LISBON — Dr. G. C. Erickson will conduct a tour and speak at the dinner meeting of the Tri-County Rehabilitation Council Nov. 12 at Hillside Hospital, northwest of Warren, in Trumbull County.

Dr. R. L. Jenkins, program chairman, said the purpose of the council is to serve as a sounding board in the Tri-County area for all problems relating to the many phases of rehabilitation; to promote, as a concerted effort, community concern relating to medical, therapeutic, training and vocational aspects of rehabilitation, and to correlate the efforts of all agencies and persons concerned with rehabilitation for a more efficient means to this end.

Dinner will be served at 6. Reservations must be made by Tuesday with Mrs. David Gentry, 640 Sherwood Ave., Youngstown.

Most Were Minor

Justice Dept. Received 50 Election Complaints

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department reports it received about 50 election complaints during Tuesday's voting. It said most were minor.

A department spokesman Wednesday called this a relatively small number, which he attributed to advance public notice by U.S. attorneys across the nation that they were standing by to handle quickly any trouble that occurred.

The complaints came from 26 states — not identified — and included broken voting machines, reported threats against poll watchers and attempts to slow down voting by Negroes.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin discussed with Secretary of State Dean Rusk Wednesday the possibility of an international conference on Cambodia and its border problems.

Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey noted that Cambodia's Prince Norodom Sihanouk had proposed a conference month ago. The proposition has been discussed by interested governments from time to time since, the press officer said.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Asst. Secretary of State Thomas C. Mann says it is necessary "to sacrifice short-term political advantages and personal gain" in order to lay "solid and enduring foundations" for the Alliance for Progress.

Mann, who is U.S. coordinator of the U.S.-supported program for Latin America, said in a speech Wednesday that there is a great temptation to look for quick answers in seeking to speed social reform in Central and South America.

ABLE Reviews Economy Moves In Beaver Local

Recommendations to the Beaver Local School District Board of Education for possible economy moves in school operations were made during a meeting of the district's Association for the Advancement of Education Wednesday night.

About 40 attended the meeting at the Public School at which committee reports were given on the group's support of two proposed levies in Tuesday's election.

Bills totaling $497 were paid. Dr. Arthur Cloran, president, was in charge.

The main economy measure recommended by the group concerned transportation savings.

Area residents were reminded ABLE is not just active during levy campaign periods, but aims at a year-long goal of supporting education progress in Beaver Local, with regular meetings schedules, a spokesman said.

The next meeting will be Tuesday night at the Public School.

Officers said Ross Gorby, 49, of Rogers R. D. 1 was headed north when he stopped his truck suddenly to avoid a collision with a car making a turn.

The girl, driving a 1957 sedan behind him, was unable to stop and her auto hit the rear of the truck. Damage was minor and neither driver was hurt.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm just an average man. My wife doesn't keep running home to her mother, my father - in-law doesn't mooch cigarettes or try to borrow money from me. My daughter isn't mixed up with a dope addict and my son isn't in trouble for stealing cars.

I have a healthy bank account, no debts, a cozy apartment, a paid-for convertible and I'm not on tranquilizers or booze. This year I went to Europe for three weeks. Last year I went to South America. Next year I'm going to the Orient.

How does it happen that I have it so good? The answer is simple. I never married. Why not pass on this formula to your readers?—SINGLE AND WORRY-FREE.

Dear Single: So you never married? Big deal. If your father had followed your formula where would you be?

Bachelorhood is no guarantee against being broke, nervous, unhappy or alcoholic. Just look around, Buster.

Marriage is NOT for everyone and those who spurn it in favor of traveling alone are neither to be congratulated nor criticized. The singletons miss a lot of grief, but they miss a great many joys, too.

Having chosen one road, one never knows what the other road would have been like. And perhaps it's just as well.

Service De Luxe

Dear Ann: Please print my letter. Every postman's wife will be grateful.

My husband believes in giving the people on his route de luxe service. When a letter arrives with postage due, he pays for it out of his own pocket. This could amount to any amount from 1 cent to 30 cents on a letter. It is not unusual for my husband to lay out $2 in one day. He then leaves a note and hopes he will get the money back.

You'd be surprised, Ann, if you knew how many people don't even say "Thank you," much less pay the letter carrier what they owe him. Perhaps these folks don't know that if the postman weren't a good Joe he could take the postage due letter back to the post office and they'd have to come down and get it.

Am I too harsh on people? Can it be they don't know? Thanks for your help. —LETTER CARRIER'S WIFE.

Never A Bride

Dear Ann: I've been working in this plant for almost three years. Six girls have gotten married right under my nose but nothing exciting ever happens to me. Maybe I'm not pushy enough. Please give me some help.

About three months ago a very nice young man was transferred here as supervisor for our section. He is clean-cut, pleasant, mannerly and just my type. During working hours he pays quite a lot of attention to me but when 5 o'clock comes he vanishes into thin air.

For the last three weeks he has been coming by my station after his lunch hour and he always brings me a sack of peanuts. Do you think this means anything? How can I get him to ask me for a date? I'd hate to spoil things by rushing him but maybe I ought to do something. If so, what?—TORCHY.

Eason Agency Will Operate C. W. Arnold Insurance Firm

Tom Eason and Associates of E. 4th St. has assumed the management of the C. W. Arnold insurance agency in Wellsville. It was announced today by Eason, owner of the firm here.

He said the Arnold name will be retained and no change in the operation of the agency is contemplated, with Miss Anna C. Gallia continuing as office manager.

The Arnold agency has been in the insurance business in Wellsville for 103 years as of last Aug. 15, with the present office building at 416 Main St., being erected in 1899.

Records verified by Phoenix of Hartford, Conn., disclose that the agency was doing business in Wellsville as early as 1861 under the management of Corydon O. Arnold, grandfather of Corydon W. Arnold, the retiring owner.

Corydon W. Arnold's father, Clarence Rockwell Arnold, took over the agency in 1884. Corydon W. Arnold was born that year and became engaged in the insurance business in 1904, when his father died. He separated himself at the time from the express business, which also had been established and operated by his grandfather.

Arnold and his wife, the former Florence Boothman of Bryan, Ohio, were married in 1908. They have a daughter, Mrs. E. R. McNeal, whose husband is a doctor at Canfield, Ohio, and a granddaughter, Miss Penny McNeal.

Mrs. Arnold's mother, Mrs. Alice Mae Boothman, is still living.

The Arnolds reside at 409 Riverside Ave.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruise —

Dear Heloise: Just how does one get really sour, sour pickles today? Please answer as our own family are sour bugs!

"PICKLES."

I have checked with a top pickle man in the business and he gave me his terrific special recipe that I will share with you. And, gals, these are really sour, so watch your step before you bite off too big a chunk!

Buy processed (read fine print on bottle) or genuine dill pickles and pour off the juice.

Slice the pickles any shape you wish ... crosswise, or lengthwise, in thin slices or stick-style.

Put pickles back in the jar and fill the jar with distilled WHITE vinegar (and be sure it's 5 per cent).

Put the top back on the bottle and set it on your drain-board for three days. After that the pickles will HAVE to be kept under refrigeration. This means keep them in your refrig at all times.

Wow! Talk about a sour pickle ... It's great!

SOUR PICKLE.

DEAR HELOISE: I go to a school where it is necessary to wear a uniform skirt and blouse. Most of us have trouble with the blouse pulling out of the skirt.

Then someone got the bright idea of putting a button on the skirt inside the waistband and a buttonhole on the blouse.

By buttoning the skirt onto the blouse, the blouse stays put all day. Certainly makes for a neater appearance and we are much happier, too, as we don't have to be tugging and fussing with our blouses all day.

TERESA FOLEY.

DEAR HELOISE: When the snow and rain season is in full bloom, the front door seemed an endless mess of boots and rubbers until I solved the problem by putting a plastic clothes basket, lined with a plastic bag, by the front door. Now my rugs stay cleaner and there's no rushing around searching for boots and rubbers before school time.

I also use the same kind of baskets for my youngest son's toys.

MRS. DOLORES LAMANIA.

DEAR HELOISE: I would like to improve on the idea carrying police emergency phone numbers in your purse:

Why not write the numbers on a piece of thin cardboard, and tape a dime on the back of the card? How many times have you had to ask for change to make an urgent phone call? Perhaps you might be in a place where change is not available.

JANICE ALBRIGHT.

This way there will be no frantic searching for change.

MRS. G. SOTELO.

DEAR HELOISE: I use liquid wax on the stove top, refrigerator, tile back and top of sink, tile windowsills and cupboard doors. Presto! A soft cloth eliminates finger marks, spills and what-have-you in nothing flat!

I wax almost everything but my husband, who has been shining (for me) for 52 years.

A. A. B.

And I shouldn't wonder. You're a doll.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: In regard to trouble with electricity in the rugs — the shocking truth is too low humidity in the home. An inexpensive electric moisturizer or a humidifier will eliminate these shocks.

Boiling water in an open kettle for several hours will also correct the problem.

Thank you for your column and many hints and help.

WALTER MENGAL.

DEAR HELOISE: We have aluminum, combination - storm doors on our home and we find it best to put the glass in the lower section and the screen above.

This way the little folks won't push the screen out.

JANICE ALBRIGHT.

Officers Named In Hairdresser Group Election

Mrs. Diane DeVille, who operates Salon DeVille, was elected president of East Liverpool Hairdressers Affiliate 15 of the National Hairdressers Association at the meeting Tuesday night at the A. & H. School of Beauty.

Other officers named were Clarence Gilbert, first vice president; Mrs. Helen Clark, second vice president; Mrs. Evelyn Messenger, third vice president; Miss Eleanor Doak, recording secretary; Mrs. Margaret Althar, financial secretary; Miss Marie Gallagher, treasurer, and Clyde Silverthorn, historian. Mrs. Clark and Mrs. Messenger formed the nominating committee.

Young Driver Loses Permit For Speeding

James Brown, 18, of 2000 Danbury Ave., Wellsville, was given a 10-day suspension of his operator's permit and fined $10 and costs when he pleaded guilty today in Municipal Court on a charge of speeding 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on State Route 39.

Brown, a Wellsville market employee, was cited Wednesday at 9:40 p. m. by the State Highway Patrol.

Two more cited on speeding charges by the patrol were fined $15 and costs and a third forfeited a bond.

The $15 fines were imposed on Charles E. McCabe of Niles and James Larrey of Elm St., Salineville, both arrested Oct. 27, on charges of speeding 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on the East Liverpool - Wellsville "super-road." Both pleaded guilty.

Elmer Merchant Jr. of Florence St., Glenmoor, cited Oct. 29 on a charge of speeding 65 in a 50-mile zone on the new Freeway, forfeited a $32.50 appearance bond.

Donald Donatella, 312 Midland Ave., Midland, forfeited a $57.50 bond on a charge of improper auto registration. He was cited Monday at 12:13 p. m. on St. George St. by Patrolman Orin C. Smith.

Hearings are set next week for two motorists cited Wednesday night on charges of speeding 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone one the "super-road."

Frank Comito of Toronto, arrested at 11:50, is due for a hearing Wednesday. George Stoffel, 1002 Florence St., cited at 10:05, will appear Nov. 13. Both were arrested by the patrol.

School Mothers Make Donation

Mrs. Eva Wolfe, president, was in charge at a meeting of the Beaver Local Public School Mothers Club Wednesday afternoon at the school.

A contribution of $10 was authorized for the Junior Science Fair of the school. Plans were discussed for a book fair to be held next week.

The group also discussed a dinner to be served for Boy Scouts Order of the Arrow Dec. 5.

Mrs. Mary Ferello, floral consultant, spoke and demonstrated centerpieces and corsages. A centerpiece was contributed to the Chester Church of the Nazarene.

Mrs. Pat Harris served refreshments to 36.

Home Counties Vote In Opposite Columns

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The two Ohioans most concerned with their parties' fortunes in Tuesday's election saw their home counties go into the opposite column in the presidential voting.

In Summit County, home of Republican state chairman Ray Bliss, President Johnson won by 73,900 votes, while Union County home of Democratic chairman William Coleman, went to Barry Goldwater by 61 votes.

Wry Joke On Defeat Dashed Off By Barry

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater dashed off a wry family joke Wednesday about his loss to President Johnson.

Goldwater drove to Scottsdale, near his home, to buy some paintings. One was a Mark Coomer painting of a clown weeping.

He bought it for his daughter Peggy, saying she likes clowns. He put this card with it: "I voted for Barry."

Register Gains In Many Others

Democrats Gain Control Of 5 State Legislatures

NEW YORK (AP)—Democrats ousted Republicans from control of both houses of the legislatures in five states, took over one house in five more states, and scored gains in a dozen others.

The GOP picked up a few legislative seats in several states, notably California.

The big Democratic victories Tuesday were in New York, Michigan, Indiana, Iowa and Utah.

The Democrats took over one house in Colorado, Wisconsin, Montana, Wyoming and North Dakota.

New York — Democrats won the Senate 34-24 and the Assembly 88-62, to get control of both houses for the first time in 30 years. The GOP leaders of both houses were defeated in their districts. With present Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller is expected to call a quick special session to reapportion the districts before the Democrats take over.

Michigan — Latest returns gave the Democrats margins of 72-28 in the House and 23-15 in the Senate, reversing the GOP majorities of 58-42 and 21-11. The Democratic sweep followed a reapportionment, but Democratic leaders have promised an effort at harmony with GOP Gov. George Romney.

Indiana — Democrats won both houses for the first time since 1936, taking the House 77-23 and the Senate 35-15. The GOP margins had been 56-44 and 25-24 with one vacancy due to death.

Iowa — The Democrats won both houses for the first time in 30 years, taking the Senate 35-24 and the House 124-101. The GOP controls the present legislature, elected before a reapportionment, by 38-12 in the Senate and 79-29 in the House. The reapportionment added seats.

Utah — The Senate will be Democratic 15-12 and the House 39-30, reversing GOP margins of 13-12 and 34-30 in the 1963 legislature. A reapportionment added seats.

Colorado — The Democrats captured the House 42-23, reversing a 41-24 GOP majority, but the Republicans gained one in the Senate to boost their margin to 21-14. Officials of both parties said the GOP would have lost more except for the recent redistricting which it controlled.

Wisconsin — Democrats won the Assembly 52-48 and picked up two Senate seats to trim the GOP majority to 20-13. The Assembly had been 54-46 Republican.

Montana — The Democrats won control of the House for the first time since 1959, and retained control of the Senate for the third straight biennial session. Latest figures show Democratic margins of 31-24, one seat undetermined, in the Senate, and 54-28 in the House, two undetermined.

Wyoming — Democrats took the House 33-28, but the Republicans held a 13-12 margin in the Senate. The GOP had both houses 37-19 and 16-11 before reapportionment. The Democrats won every seat added by the 1963 redistricting.

North Dakota — Democrats won the reapportioned House 64-45 and picked up eight Senate seats to cut the GOP margin in the upper house to 29-20. The GOP had controlled the House 70-43.

California — The Democrats held their 27-13 majority in the Senate but will lose three or four of their 52-38 Assembly majority.

Potters Meet Improved Salem Eleven
Court Fight Set Today For Braves

Coach Bob McNea looks for an "improved" Salem team to take the field against the Potters Friday at Salem.
Don Clarico's Quakers got off to a slow start this season losing its first three games but have bounced back to win three out of their last five.

McNea's Club Shoots For 7th Win kern, 26-14 and West Branch, 12-0. The Quakers have lost to Cleveland Lincoln, 34-0, Ravena, 34-12, Lorain, 34-14, and Marietta, 35-7.
THE TWO mainstays of the Salem eleven are fullback Chuck Joseph a hard driving 180-pound fullback and Cody Goad the team's leading scorer with 42 points.
Joseph was slowed last week in the third quarter of the Boardman game with a shoulder injury but should be ready to see action against the Potters. Goad, a 165-pound halfback, suffered an ankle injury earlier in the season but has fully recovered.
CLARICO alternates two grid-ers at quarterback. Lefty Joe Rottenborn, 155-pound junior will handle the signal calling assignments along with Tom start Bob Whitman a 220-pound heavyweight will open at tackle.

Potters after their seventh win and a victory over Salem would match last year's number of victories.
EAST LIVERPOOL has lost only to Steubenville Central and was tied by New Philadelphia. The Potter coach looking back to last week's victory at Weirton said "I was pleased with our defense at Weirton but we made many mistakes on offense in that game."
McNea reported that Clarence Crabbe, center and key line-backer and guard Jim Farnsworth, shaken up in the Weirton game, would be ready for duty Friday.

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Oral arguments were set to begin today in a U.S. District Court hearing sought by the Braves in an apparent move to speed their shift to Atlanta for the 1965 season.
The Braves said Wednesday they were dropping four clubs from their farm system — Denver of the Pacific Coast League, Toronto of the International League, Austin of the Texas League and Greenville, S.C., of the Western Carolinas circuit.
They retained two other minor league clubs, Yakima, Wash., of the Northwest League and Binghamton of the New York-Pennsylvania League.
The announcement added the Braves would definitely have a Triple A team somewhere next year. The Denver, Toronto and Atlanta franchises are all in Triple A leagues. The Braves own the players on the Denver roster.
Milwaukee Sentinel baseball writer Red Thisted said in a story for today's editions that he had learned the Braves were considering purchase of the Atlanta franchise.
If the Braves are unable to move to Atlanta, Thisted said, the purchase of the International League franchise would serve a two-fold purpose — continued development of the players and a chance for Atlanta fans to see some of the youngsters who will eventually wear Braves uniforms.
The Braves have drafted major league rights to Atlanta and if they lose their court fight would be free to move there after their rental contract for County Stadium expires on Dec. 31, 1965.
The court fight centers on efforts by Milwaukee County to force the Braves to meet requirements of the contract, which requires the Braves to play all of their 1965 home games in County Stadium.
The county obtained in a state circuit court a temporary order restraining the Braves from moving or from asking other National League owners for the needed approval of the shift.

NCAA Bars Miami From Tourney

Mich. State, Navy Handed Probation

NEW YORK (AP) — The NCAA has barred Miami of Florida from participation in its annual post-season basketball tournament and slapped Michigan State and Navy with probationary sentences for recruiting violations.
The steps were taken Wednesday by the NCAA's 18-man policy-making council, which at the same time fired the first salvo in renewing the battle with the Amateur Athletic Union over the right to sanction track and field competitions.
Four member schools — Western State of Colorado also was involved — were penalized by the NCAA for "excessive financial aid and recruiting violations," but only Miami was barred from post-season activity.
The ruling, which places Miami on probation for one year and bans the school from the NCAA basketball tournament as well as other major post-season affairs cooperating with the NCAA, came about because of an incident last year.
The council said a representative of "Miami's athletic interests" gave a basketball player free room and board and paid for his air travel for several trips made in 1963.
Miami President Henry King Stanford said the violation was unintentional but the school respects the decision and will abide by it.
Michigan State was placed on probation for three years but additional sanctions were suspended because the school corrected the violations after the 1958-59 college year.
Navy received a one-year probation with no additional penalties.
Neither the Spartans nor the Midlides is banned from post-season activity under the ruling.
Western State was reprimanded and censured because it gave a wrestler a grant of tuition and fees after he already had a job.
Daytona University was restored to full rights and privileges after completing two years on probation for a basketball recruiting violation.
When the Council finished handing out penalties, it turned to the AAU and signaled the end of the truce which had been arranged by the late Gen. Douglas MacArthur. The truce was to have lasted until the end of the Tokyo Olympic Games.
The right to sanction events has been the disputed point in the struggle between the two groups and has continued for more than three years. The AAU claims the sole right to sanction meets.
The NCAA, however, reaffirmed the position taken in a resolution adopted last January.
The resolution stated: "The member institutions of the NCAA will support only those meets and tournaments which have obtained sanctions from the established sports federations in basketball, track and field, baseball and gymnastics."

Leopards In Morning Tilt Saturday
Defense Is Name Of Game When Played By Midland

Defense is the name of the game of football when played Midland style.
Coach Joe Cochran is a man with pride, pride in his Midland team for its sparkling defensive showing especially in the last half of the season.
It was a frustrating beginning for Cochran who arrived on the Midland scene this season after serving as an assistant at Canton McKinley.
MIDLAND, hit hard by injuries to key personnel for the first five games of the season, showed only one tie and three defeats in its first four outings.
All three of the defeats came by the margin of one touchdown while the Leopards battled their chief rival — Beaver — to a 7-7 tie.
Following a 12-6 loss to Braddock, things started going Midland's way and the aggressive Leopard defenders have come on strong to shut out their last four opponents. No one has crossed the Midland goal since that Oct. 3 game with Braddock.
In fact, in eight games, Midland has allowed 51 points, an average of slightly over six points per contest.
COCHRAN is quick to point out that Midland has shut out every team in the conference with the exception of Beaver.
Midland and Beaver, with victories in their final league games, would wind up in a tie for first place in the Midwestern Athletic Conference.
The Leopards meet Freedom Saturday morning at Midland Stadium in a game beginning at 11:30 a. m.
A VICTORY over Freedom would give Midland its first winning season since 1959 a tribute to a fine coaching job turned in by the Midland staff.
When did the Leopards hit their peak this year, Cochran said "In the second half of the Rochester game, we looked better than we did at any other time during the season."
Pointing to the Hopewell game, Cochran said "we didn't make any mistakes defensively, it was a perfect game."
DEFENSE always has been Cochran's specialty. At Canton McKinley he was defensive coordinator and his fine teams

Doctors Feel They'll Save Cager's Arm

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Doctors said Wednesday they are optimistic about saving the arm of Oklahoma State University basketball player Bob Swaffar, who lost the limb in an accident Sunday night.
Swaffar's arm was rejoined in a lengthy operation after it was torn off halfway between the shoulder and elbow.
Doctors reported blood flow is good in the 20-year-old athlete's arm.
One of the big dangers now, they said, is the possibility of infection and blood clots.
Swaffar's arm was caught in a laundry water extractor machine in the school fieldhouse at Stillwater.

Phils' Gene Mauch Manager Of Year

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Philadelphia Phillies Manager Gene Mauch was playing golf Wednesday when he learned he had been named National League Manager of the Year for 1964 in the annual Associated press poll.

"I don't know whether it affected my golf game or not," Mauch said today. "I don't remember how well I played after I found out."

It was the second time in three years the honor was bestowed on the handsome 38-year-old scrapper, who makes his home in nearby Hacienda Heights. He indicated, however, that the title meant more to him the first time he won it, in 1962.

Wilt Back In Lineup But Warriors Tumble

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Towering Wilt Chamberlain is a 48-minute man again and San Francisco Warrior Coach Alex Hannum is hoping the big center can weld the Warriors back into a winning club again.

Chamberlain, who missed the Warriors' first five National Basketball Association games because of an inflammation of the pancreas, played the entire game Wednesday night.

Frick Airs Expansion To Owners

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Baseball commissioner Ford Frick's long dream, expansion of both the National and American leagues into 12-team circuits, will get a full airing here in a three-day summit meeting of club owners and general managers starting today.

The expansion theme is high on the agenda, along with a number of other important items such as the proposed switch of the Milwaukee franchise to Atlanta, presentation of a weekly television baseball spectacular for the 1965 season, completion of a new concept in minor league operations, a broadening promotional effort and a change in the present bonus rule.

Another important piece of business likely to be discussed, although not on the agenda, is the commissionership itself.

Frick already has notified owners he will not seek reelection when his current seven-year term expires next September.

A preliminary committee headed by the two league presidents, Joe Cronin of the American League and Warren Giles of the National, has been screening candidates to succeed the 70-year-old Frick.

Whatever possible action may be taken here, it is hardly likely anything will be made public until the annual winter league meetings at Houston at the end of this month.

It was learned, however, that Frick will attempt to convince the owners of the necessity of expansion in the near future, possibly by 1966.

The commissioner has preached such a plan for some time but the recent action taken by the Braves and agitation by several other clubs to shift their franchises have caused him to move his target date closer.

It is Frick's plan to create new major league teams in Seattle, Oakland, Dallas-Fort Worth and either Atlanta or Milwaukee, depending upon where the Braves eventually wind up.

The commissioner is certain to meet with serious opposition, especially from Cronin and Giles, who do not feel the time is right.

The promotional endeavor was discussed at length at a general managers' meeting in Pennsylvania last week.

The general managers, it has been learned, brought back some bad news to the owners, to the effect that the proposed Monday night TV spectacular idea has hit a snag.

Two major networks, NBC and ABC, reportedly advised they could not relinquish the programming time Monday or any other night. CBS already had announced that despite its new involvement in baseball with ownership of the Yankees, it was not interested.

Nebraska's Defense Tops In Country

NEW YORK (AP) — Nebraska's defense has yielded only 956 yards in seven games this season. That's an average of 136.6 per game—69.8 by rushing and 67.7 by passing. Notre Dame has held opposing runners to a mere 30.5 yards but has been slightly more vulnerable to passing. Georgia Tech has given up only 3.7 points a game.

Defense statistics released today by the NCAA Service Bureau show Nebraska as No. 1 in total defense, No. 2 in rushing defense and No. 6 in pass defense. Notre Dame, far ahead of all rivals in defense against rushing, is seventh in total defense. Auburn and Syracuse, second and third in total defense, have been strong against running.

Georgia Tech has allowed only 26 points in seven games. Second is Villanova with 26 in six for a 4.3 average. The other departmental defense leader is Mississippi, with an average of 45.6 yards of its 32 punts.

Kent State hasn't been blasted by passing bombs so far. Its

Giants' Star Receiver Out

NEW YORK (AP) — Del Shofner, star pass catcher of the New York Giants, may be lost to the National Football League club for the rest of the season because of stomach ulcers.

Shofner sat out last Sunday's St. Louis game with a liver virus and severe cold. He entered St. Elizabeth's Hospital Sunday night for rest and examination. Blood tests revealed the aggravated ulcer condition.

Shofner, who has been troubled with ulcers throughout his career as a pro, reported to the

Giants' camp underweight at 170 pounds. He missed the Giants' opener

Goldwater Says He Won't Yield Party Reins

Romney 'Strong Man' At Ballot Box Of GOP

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan Gov. George Romney emerged today as the strong man at the ballot box of a Republican party shattered by President Johnson's towering presidential election victory.

In the almost incredible vote avalanche in which Johnson registered strongly in nearly every precinct outside five Southern states and Arizona, Romney won re-election by cutting deep into Democratic Detroit, upping his previous support in Negro districts and winning 40 per cent backing from those who voted for the Democratic President.

Defeated GOP presidential nominee Barry Goldwater has said he does not intend to yield the reins of the Republican party. But he conceded that he thinks the GOP will pick "another man to run" in 1968 "and as of now that would be fine with me."

It would require considerable reorientation for Goldwater to gravitate to the support of Romney for this somewhat politically dubious honor four years hence. The Arizona senator said during the campaign he could understand why some "moderate" Republicans didn't support him. But he listed Romney as an unfathomable "Mormon preacher."

Romney, who wouldn't back Goldwater actively because of the latter's vote against the Civil Rights Act, already was on the offensive. His state's GOP national committee, John Martin, called for the dumping of Goldwater's personally selected chairman of the Republican National Committee, Dean Burch.

Burch, clinging to his $30,000-a-year job, found some "encouraging" signs in a debacle in which Goldwater won six states and 52 electoral votes to Johnson's 44 states and overwhelming 486 Electoral College ballots.

The GOP national chairman said the election had established a "true two-party system in the South" — which the Democrats debated hotly; had won more than 26 million voters to "the conservative philosophy" and had ended the campaign "financially sound and strong."

Johnson, with more than 41 million votes from 98 per cent of the nation's polling places, was playing the part of the magnanimous winner. He had rolled up about 61.4 per cent of the total vote.

At his ranch near Johnson City, Tex., the President and his wife welcomed Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, the vice president-elect and his wife for a brief visit before the Humphreys set off on a vacation trip to the Virgin Islands.

Johnson's observation on the election results was: "I doubt that there ever has been so many people saying so many things alike on Election Day."

Humphrey said the Johnson landslide "means good, strong leadership for the nation" that "is good for the world." Congratulatory messages poured in to the winners from all over the globe, including a pledge from the Soviet Union's new leaders to seek accommodation by negotiation.

Although Goldwater said he doesn't believe the conservative cause was hurt by the election results, there was plenty of dissent among fellow Republicans.

Moderates of the party looked to former President Dwight D. Eisenhower to provide some help for them in what could become a lengthy battle to attempt to dislodge the conservative Burch and other Goldwater supporters who filled nearly every national party office.

One of Eisenhower's chief lieutenants in any such move would be Sen. Hugh Scott, who squeaked through to re-election despite Johnson's sweep of Pennsylvania. Scott had valuable experience in this field. He saved his chairmanship of the national committee by a one-vote margin after Thomas E. Dewey lost the 1948 election.

The emergence of Romney as an outstanding GOP vote getter did not necessarily mean that the moderates would rally around him in their fight to regain control of the party. The Michigan governor, a favorite of Eisenhower, did not reveal himself as a team player when the moderates tried unsuccessfully through the candidacy of Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania to halt Goldwater's nomination.

Any organized opposition that developed seemed more likely to come from among Republican governors, with Gov. Robert E. Smylie of Idaho as one likely spearhead.

On the Democratic side, Johnson appeared to own his party lock stock and barrel. Former Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, brother of the late president, hardly seemed in any position after his election to the Senate in New York to raise any challenge to the President's leadership. It seemed clear that Kennedy would not have defeated GOP Sen. Kenneth B. Keating of New York if Johnson hadn't carried the state by a record plurality of nearly 2.5 million.

Although Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, another brother of the late president, was re-elected in Massachusetts, there was lacking the element of any significant structural challenge to Johnson when Democratic Sen. Pierre Salinger, a potential ally, went down to defeat in California.

There was a long string of members of Congress who obviously owed their victories to Johnson's massive vote-collecting ability. These included Sen. Stephen M. Young of Ohio, who came out on top in a battle with GOP Rep. Robert Taft Jr.

While the extent of Johnson's landslide was not open to question, there remained some question about the mandate the voters had given him. The one issue the computers couldn't be programmed to answer accurately was: How many citizens voted against Goldwater instead of for Johnson?

Democrats Piled Up Huge Totals In West Virginia

CHARLESTON (AP) — Democrats piled up some of the largest vote totals in West Virginia history during this statewide election sweep.

President Johnson received more votes than any candidate ever polled in the state.

Complete but unofficial returns from all 2,668 precincts gave Johnson 530,806 votes to 253,272 for Republican Barry Goldwater. The previous record vote was the 502,582 total racked up by President Franklin Roosevelt in 1936.

The other record-setter was U. S. Sen. Robert C. Byrd, who received more votes than any other West Virginia candidate ever had.

With only a few precincts untabulated, Byrd had 509,000 votes to Republican Cooper Benedict's 244,439. Byrd topped former Gov. Homer A. Holt's total of 492,333 in 1935.

Democrat Hulett Smith, 46-year-old Beckley businessman and former state commerce commissioner, was elected governor by the biggest margin in 16 years. But this was the closest of the three top races.

Unofficial returns from all but one per cent of the state's precincts gave Smith 428,976 votes to 353,857 for Republican former Gov. Cecil Underwood.

Driver, 64, Cited In Local Mishap

A 64-year-old motorist was cited on a charge of driving left of the center line after a collision Wednesday at 6:06 p.m. at Smith St. and Lincoln Ave., police said.

He is Lawrence E. Blakely, 216 W. 6th St., whose 1956 station wagon was involved in a mishap with a 1960 two-door sedan operated by Wayne Chamberlain, 53, of 1061 Claiborne St. Blakely told Patrolman Samuel E. Hayes he was turning off Lincoln onto Smith and "went over the center line too far." Chamberlain, headed east on Smith St., said he saw Blakely's car on his side of the street and stopped, but too late to avoid a collision. Police said there was damage to the left front of each auto.

Blakely did not appear for a scheduled Municipal Court hearing this morning and Judge Samuel M. Chertoff ordered a warrant for his arrest.

GOP's Only Solace

Had Net Gain Of One In 25 Governorship Races

WASHINGTON (AP) — About the only solace Republicans could find in Tuesday's election returns was in the 25 governorship races. There they had a net gain of one.

Particularly satisfying to the Republicans was the defeat of two Democratic governors seeking re-election, Albert Rosellini of Washington and John W. Reynolds of Wisconsin. Rosellini ran for a third term, Reynolds a second.

In addition, the Republicans took over the Massachusetts state house when former Gov. John A. Volpe staged a political comeback to defeat Lt. Gov. Francis X. Bellotti.

Democrats, in turn, won in Arizona and Utah, where the state houses had been in Republican control.

The 17 governorships won by the Democrats Tuesday gave them a total of 33 since they had 16 holdovers. The Republicans won eight of the races. They had nine holdovers, making their total 17. The pre-election lineup was 34 to 16.

Since all the races except for Arizona were in states carried by President Johnson over Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republicans victors in the races for governor displayed good tide-bucking ability.

Nowhere was this more clearly demonstrated than in Michigan where George Romney, who had refused to endorse Goldwater, easily defeated Rep. Neil Staebler, former Democratic national committeeman.

Utah elected a Democratic governor for the first time in 16 years when Calvin L. Rampton, Salt Lake City attorney, won over Mitchell Melich, former state legislator.

Victors included Gov. John B. Connally of Texas, close political associate of President Johnson, and losers Richard Kleindienst, who is close to Goldwater, in Arizona.

While Goldwater carried his home state of Arizona, Kleindienst lost to Democrat Sam Giddard, Tucson attorney. In Arkansas, Republican Winthrop Rockefeller, brother of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, gave Gov. Orval E. Faubus something of a scare. In the end Faubus pulled through by a substantial margin to win an unprecedented sixth two-year term.

While Volpe in Massachusetts was making his successful comeback, another former Republican governor, Cecil H. Underwood of West Virginia, failed in his Underwood lost to Democrat Hulett C. Smith, state commerce commissioner.

In the Wisconsin race, Reynolds lost to former Lt. Gov. Warren Knowles. The other unseated Democratic governor, Rosellini in Washington, lost to Daniel Jackson Evans, a state legislator.

An Old Industry

NEW YORK (AP) — The manufacturer of glass bottles is one of man's oldest industries. It started in Egypt some 4,000 years ago. The crude vials of those days were laboriously turned out by hand, while today's slick containers are machine-made at the rate of some 25.5 billion a year in the U.S. alone, according to the Glass Container Manufacturers Institute. Bottles in ancient times were priceless luxuries. Today they are household necessities.

GOP Wins Three Of Four Seats In Ohio High Court

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) —

Complete but unofficial returns from Tuesday's general elections show Republicans won three of the four Ohio Supreme Court seats up for decision and now hold a 6-1 margin over the Democrats.

Elected were Republican Paul W. Brown of Youngstown, who defeated Democratic incumbent Rankin M. Gibson of Westerville; Republican Louis J. Schneider Jr. of Cincinnati, who beat Democratic incumbent Lynn B. Griffith of Warren; incumbent Republican and former Gov. C. William O'Neill of Columbus, who defeated Democratic candidate Joseph B. Bryan of Columbus, and Democratic incumbent Charles B. Zimmerman of Springfield, who beat his Republican opponent, Francis B. Douglas of Cleveland.

The holdover members of the court are Chief Justice Kingsley A. Taft, Thomas J. Herbert and John M. Matthias, all Republicans.

Junior Editors Quiz on PUPPETS

QUESTION: Why are puppets sometimes called marionettes?

ANSWER: People have always enjoyed looking at their lives as shown on some kind of stage, but there were few theaters or actors in the ancient days. So, little puppet figures, able to move, were invented. These were easy to make and could be shown on miniature stages. The simplest kind is the hand puppet, lower left, which any one can make and enjoy. Roll and tape a cardboard tube to fit your index finger and use a work, or rubber glove for the body. Slip the tube over the glove's index finger and make a head on top, with cloth wrapping, papier mache or perhaps a painted potato. Slip hand into glove as shown. Dip index finger to make puppet nod, work arms with thumb and middle finger. The famous English Punch and Judy puppets were worked in this way.

One of the ways Christianity spread was through the use of religious plays in the middle ages, using puppets operated by strings. Because one of the puppets was the Virgin Mary, the word "marionette" or "Little Mary" began to be used and spread to include all string-operated puppets. Marionette shows have developed into a real art in America, with such famous puppeteers as the Bairds, Tony Sarg and Remo Bufano.

FOR YOU TO DO: By all means make a hand puppet, and if you are very ambitious, try the marionette in stretch pants. We show how it is worked, one hand controlling the head and arms, the other, the legs. Experimenting will show you how to make the puppet seem alive.

Robbie Principato of West Roxbury, Mass., wins this week's grand prize of a 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review and you may win the weekly prize or the daily prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10.

First Senate Team In 161 Years

Kennedy Brothers Swap Quips, Digs At Hospital

BOSTON (AP) — For two hours the U.S. Senate's first brothers team in 161 years swapped quips and digs at a hospital bedside.

It was the day after election, and U.S. Sen-elect Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., hustled to New England Baptist Hospital Wednesday to exchange congratulations with his younger brother, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass.

Bobby emphasized he was only visiting Boston, a joking reference to campaign charges he was a carpetbagger in New York.

Ted, who scored a lopsided election victory for a six-year term in the Senate, kidded Bobby about his smaller margin in the New York election.

Their meeting was loud and full of laughs. Bobby brought along his wife, Ethel, and Ted's wife, Joan, completed the quartet.

Reporters waiting outside the room had trouble distinguishing which brother was talking. One newsman explained, "They both sound so much the same, it's impossible to tell."

He added, wistfully, that both sound just like their older brother, the late President John F. Kennedy. Ted now holds the Senate post once occupied by his older brother John.

During talks with newsmen, Ted said, "I think I asked Bobby if he was ruthless."

That was another reference to one of the charges made against Bobby during the New York election fight against Republican Sen. Kenneth B. Keating.

"Oh, no," Bobby interjected. "He's been getting pretty fresh since he's been in the hospital. He had to have his wife campaign for him."

Ted has been hospitalized since last June when his back was broken in a plane crash. He expects to leave the hospital before Christmas.

They talked about problems in both Massachusetts and New York. One subject was more work for Navy yards and air-base locations.

"I explained to Ted," Bobby said, "that I was older (38) and that in our family we had a tradition that the older brother . . ."

"Isn't Ted senior to you as a senator?" a newsman asked.

"I believe that he brought that up," Bobby replied.

The brothers Kennedy, when both sit in the Senate, will be the first such combination since 1803.

Theodore Foster of Rhode Island and Dwight Foster of Massachusetts served in the U.S. Senate from 1800 to 1803, when they resigned.

Incumbent Appellate Judges Re-Elected Except One GOP

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Incumbent appellate court judges in Ohio's 10 districts won re-election, except for one Republican, in Tuesday's general election, complete but unofficial returns show.

Defeated was Judge Clyde M. Deeds of Toledo by Clifford S. Brown, a Democrat and Huron County judge. Deeds had been on the 6th District appellate bench since 1953.

Here are the results from the state's other districts:

1st—Republican incumbent C. Watson Hover, Cincinnati, defeated Robert G. Ray, Democrat, of Warren County.

2nd — Incumbent Democrat Joseph D. Kerns of Dayton was unopposed.

3rd — Republican incumbent George S. Middleton of Bellefontaine defeated John D. Harshbarger, Lima Democrat.

4th — Republican Gordon B. Gray of Athens defeated Democrat Warren S. Earhart.

5th — Incumbent Republican Paul D. Van Nostram of Canton defeated Democrat James J. Mayer, Richland County.

7th — Democratic incumbent John J. Lynch of Youngstown defeated Republican George M. Jones for the full six-year term.

Incumbent Republican Nils P. Johnson, Youngstown, defeated Democrat James G. France for the unexpired term ending Feb. 8, 1967.

8th — Incumbent Republican Lee E. Skeel of Cleveland was unopposed.

Unopposed for the unexpired term ending Feb. 8, 1967 was Republican Daniel H. Wasserman of Cleveland.

9th — Incumbent Democrat Oscar Hunsicker of Akron was unopposed.

10th — Incumbent Democrat John C. Duffy of Columbus defeated Republican William W. Holmes of Columbus.

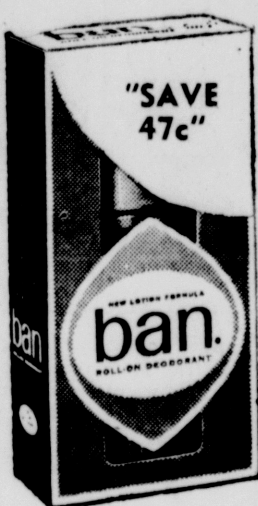

Bobby Richardson of the Yankees and Tim McCarver of the Cardinals hit safely in all seven World Series games.
